SWISS FLIERS LOST

WILL CHEERS AS SENATE ADJOURNS IN THREE MINUTES

(Special to The News)

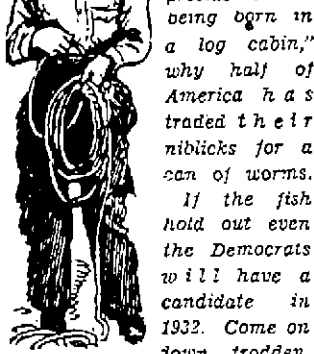

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Aug. 21.—Since Mr. Hoover's debate in Virginia last week on "Resolved that fishing is more beneficial to presidents than being born in a log cabin," why half of America has traded their niblicks for a sea of worms.

If the fish hold out even the Democrats will have a candidate in 1932. Come on down—trodgen, let's finally give some cheers.

"The senate met and adjourned in three minutes." That will knock the pessimists in the head that think this country is not improving.

But, there is always a "but" to all good news. They are going to meet again. So we can't hope for this continued prosperity.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

let's finally give some cheers.

TOKIO, Aug. 21.—With her damaged gas cell repaired and the entire ship pronounced in fit condition for the long flight across the Pacific, the Graf Zeppelin was all in readiness today to take off for Los Angeles on the third leg of her record-smashing round the world flight.

Dr. Hugo Eckener, commander of the giant dirigible, has announced definitely that the great ship will take off for Los Angeles at 4 a. m. tomorrow, Tokyo time (3 p. m. this afternoon New York Daylight Saving time).

Ready To Go

The twenty passengers who will make the Pacific hop have been ordered to be at the Kasumigaura Air Field about midnight in order to be on hand if weather conditions cause Dr. Eckener to order a slightly earlier start.

Refueling of the air monarch has now been completed, and the final work of loading aboard food supplies, mail and cargo continued throughout the day. According to Dr. Eckener, the start will not be delayed.

With His Racer

(BULLETIN)
ANNAPOLIS, Md., Aug. 21.—Lieut. Al Williams first effort today to get his navy mercury racer off the water of the Severn river in the tight flight the Navy has demanded before allowing him to enter the plane in the Schneider cup races, resulted in failure.

After taking for about two miles the motor failed, and the plane had to be towed back for a new start.

BEGIN STEEL ERECTION IN POTTERY EXPANSION

Work of erection of the steel for the new kiln house of the Shenango Pottery near Grant street starts today and with the erection of the steel will come a tangible evidence of one of the most important industrial additions to the city in many years.

Four hundred and seventy feet long and 176 feet wide, built of steel, concrete and brick the new kiln house will house two new tunnel kilns of the most modern type for the manufacture of hotel chinaware. By November 1 of this year James M. Smith, president of the Shenango Pottery expects to light the fires under the kilns and by December 1 expects to be shipping ware from them. When completed the Shenango Pottery will be by far the largest hotel chinaware plant in the entire world.

Looked Like A Wharf

Tuesday afternoon the site of the new building looked like a wharf. Around the site is a 15 inch concrete wall while inside of it was poured 500 carloads of granulated slag for a base. Column supports are in and all the concrete work has been finished. Already seven cars of structural steel are on the ground and seven or eight cars more will be in within a day or so.

The tunnel kiln bases are laid and the tracks installed. There will be two of these kilns each of them 322 feet long. Already the pottery has one tunnel kiln in operation with many conical kilns working also. With the two new tunnel kilns working to capacity the output of the pottery will be doubled and many more employees added to the payroll.

To read of the improvement gives one but a faint idea of the mammoth work.

OHIO STATE PENITENTIARY,
COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 21.—Convict number 60,656, nee Dr. James Howard Snook, slept soundly during his first night in "death row," his guards told International News Service today.

The debonair former college professor who slew his "love-nest" sweetheart, Miss Theora Hix, an attractive co-ed at the Ohio State University, arose early this morning.

Calm And Unshaken

The guards said the man, who is sentenced to "burn" November 29, the day after Thanksgiving, is his usual calm self, apparently unimpressed and unshaken by his fate.

Snook was incarcerated in death row yesterday morning, less than half an hour after Judge Henry L. Scarlett had sentenced him to die for the fiendish hammer-and-knife slaying which he admitted committing.

His first meal in the "Aisle of the Doomed" consisted mainly of beef stew.

HOPES TO REACH
NEW YORK CITY

If Flight Is Successful It Will Mark First Flight From Paris To New York

(International News Service)
LE BOURGET FIELD, Paris,
Aug. 21.—Dieudonne Coste, famous French trans-Atlantic flyer, landed here today after a flight from Villacoublay and announced his intention of hopping off for New York tomorrow morning at 5 o'clock if the weather permits.

Coste's ambition to be the first aviator to make a flight from this city to New York has not been subdued by the fact that he failed on a previous attempt a month ago and even at this hour two young Swiss flyers who hoped off at Lisbon for New York on Monday are missing and are believed to be dead—somewhere in the Atlantic.

Coste and a fellow French aviator, Le Brix, made a flight over the South Atlantic to South America, in 1927.

When Coste and a mechanic hopped off here for New York six weeks ago another trans-Atlantic flight was attempted simultaneously by two Polish flyers—Major Idzikowski and Major Kubala. The Polish attempt ended in tragedy when the Polish plane, Marshal Pilsudski, crashed upon one of the Azores islands and Idzikowski was killed.

CASCADE PARK TO BE
MECCA OF CITIZENS

Only the kind indulgence of the weatherman is needed to insure the first annual merchants picnic at Cascade Park tomorrow being the biggest picnic which has ever been held in this city.

For weeks the members of the Retail Merchants Association, Credit Exchange and various organizations of the city have been looking forward and planning for the occasion. Arrangements are now complete, and the members of the executive committee are waiting for the morrow.

Cascade Park in its entirety has been turned over to the merchants, and they in turn are passing it on to the citizens of the city. The only person who will not get a kick out of tomorrow's affair will be the deaf, dumb and blind man suffering with lumbago.

Has Been Asked To Stop Here
On Trip To Cleveland
Next Week

New Castle residents, who have been thwarted in their efforts to have the giant navy dirigible Los Angeles visit here on several of its previous trips across the continent, may have their desire gratified when the big ship journeys to Cleveland for the National Air races on August 25th.

The Los Angeles will fly from Washington to Cleveland, and according to assurances received by the Youngstown Chamber of Commerce, will circle over that city.

Secretary James W. Cole of the Chamber of Commerce has communicated with Rear Admiral W. A. Moffett, chief of the navy bureau of aeronautics, asking to have the ship fly over New Castle enroute to Cleveland, but has not received any answer as yet. He is anxiously waiting word from the naval chief.

The Los Angeles was to have flown over New Castle on a previous trip intended, but unfavorable weather forced a change in plans and it did not come here. On another occasion, it took a different route and did not pass near here.

Floors Well Arranged

Each of the five floors are laid out about the same. The ceiling are colored to absorb sound, the floors are covered with rubber tile to deaden the sound of footsteps. The doors are equipped with the latest handles which have no knobs to turn simply a large brass hook under which a nurse can hook her arm and open the door, even though her arms be filled.

Make Plans For Big Labor Day

Robertson And Powers Speak Pyrotechnical Honor To Edison

Arrangements are under way for the celebration of Labor Day at Cascade Park and it is believed that it will be one of the biggest days in the season's history at Cascade Park. Thomas Robertson, Aurora, Pa., vice president, Pennsylvania Federation of Labor will be the principal speaker. Attorney John Power, New Castle, is also listed for an address to the workers.

There will be a special athletic program with prizes and a pyrotechnical display at night.

The first flash of fireworks will be an unusual feature, in honor of Thomas Edison.

It will show the electric bulb first made by Edison in 1879 and the next flash will show the 1899 bulb and across the top of the display will be the words "Edison Jubilee."

While this is in full light a curtain will draw in the center of the display showing Edison's picture.

This display will be in keeping with the Light Golden Jubilee program which is in honor of Thomas Edison.

BIG DIRIGIBLE STARTING THIRD HOP OF JOURNEY

one minute beyond the time set unless some unforeseen complication develops.

Dr. Ecker's announcement of the starting time was made after a minute inspection of his dirigible, which revealed that the only damage the huge air monster sustained in its long flight across Europe and Asia from Friedrichshafen, Germany to Tokyo, was a punctured gas cell. This was quickly repaired, and the Graf Zeppelin pronounced fit for his next journey.

In Los Angeles Sunday Dr. Ecker cheered his passengers with the announcement that he expects to reach Los Angeles late Sunday. If there are no headwinds from the east, the Zeppelin will touch the American coast at Seattle and continue overland to Los Angeles. If conditions off the coast are bad, however, Dr. Ecker will remain over the ocean, touching the mainland first at San Francisco.

In announcing the time decided upon for the start of the flight, the ship's commander revealed he would take the Great Circle steamer course across the Pacific, touching the Aleutian Islands of Alaska before swinging southward down the coast of North America. The dirigible will remain in Los Angeles between thirty-six and forty-eight hours, depending upon the time needed to span the Pacific before proceeding to Lakehurst on the final leg of the epochal journey.

Meanwhile, passengers and officers of the Graf continued their brilliant round of receptions and entertainments which various Japanese dignitaries are staging for their benefit. The entire complement of the dirigible attended a reception last night at the Imperial Hotel, where they were stopping during their stay in Tokyo, when they were guests of Foreign Minister Shidehara and other members of the Japanese cabinet.

Health Department, which will provide a few more noes to be counted by census enumerators. There were 89 births during June and but 53 deaths. There is considerable speculation as to what the population figures of the city will be when the official count is made, but many are confident it will be close to 55,000.

Pa. New doesn't wonder that campers along ideal streams have all but decided to pack up for home. Good warm rain inside would be welcome any night this week, he thinks. Ideal camping weather in the daytime, however, proves an effective magnet and holds the outdoor folk to their summer retreats.

What a time the boys at the Boy Scout camp are having this week. The New Castle Rotary Club has sent the boys, some from the Margaret Henry Home, there for a week. It's a real treat to the lads, and besides, Rotary provides a daily candy and ice cream special for the boys.

In a note from J. Lee Calahan, of the Boy Scouts, received by a member of The News staff this morning, Calahan says, "I have visited Ireland, Scotland, Wales and England. The most beautiful country is Wales." He had miserable weather since we arrived in camp, mud six inches deep in camp. We sail on August 20, for Havre, France. All well and happy."

There's a hay making season approaching for the candidates. Just think of the chances to meet the voters, in addition to the opening of the golf course, the game dedication, there's the New Castle Fair that has been accommodated moved up before the primaries, several big picnics, and the labor day outings.

One week from Thursday is the first day for New Castle voters to register this fall. Every man or woman who wants to vote at the primaries or general election must register anew, this year.

Pa. New's chance to be on the Canadian side of the Niagara Falls a few days since, and while there was an immense sign on one of the nearby hotels, "Ale and Beer" there didn't seem to be any panic on the part of the hundreds of tourists crossing into Canada to be first in line. It was as quiet as a cemetery.

Up along the Lake front they're getting ready to ship tons and tons of grapes. Scores of cars are being assembled in the Westfield district for transporting the crops. The weather has been unusually dry this summer, and it may have some effect upon the yield that is harvested.

City workmen are turning their sewer cleaning efforts to the north hill section today. Pa. New's believe that there should be some decided improvement in sewer conditions here.

due to the cleaning work of the summer. Certain it is that sewers must be kept clean to get their maximum efficiency. A sewer half clogged with dirt and stones is not going to carry off the full volume of water.

With the drought that has been existing for several weeks in this county special precautions should be taken against fire.

nected with a bath, and each has a lavatory.

On the third floor is Memorial Corridor and here are rooms that have been furnished by citizens who wished to honor the memory of some one who has passed on.

Perhaps the outstanding feature of the entire hospital is the operating floor, which is the fifth floor of the building. Three major operation rooms and an eye, ear, nose and throat operating room are on this floor, each of them equipped with only the finest equipment that money can buy. In the eye, ear, nose and throat room is a group of Lazar lights, the last word in operating lights. In the major operating room Le Scalpique lights are used, with auxiliary spot lights.

Sponge racks, basins, operating tables, all of them the best and all of them a challenge to the surgeon to give the best that is in him.

On the roof is the solarium, with an outdoor ward for patients who are able to go out doors.

In the basement are the heating plant, boiler room, dining room, and cafeteria for nurses, diet kitchen, dining room for the help and a class room for the student nurses.

To the east of the hospital is the Nurses Home, the gift of Mrs. Jameson and like the hospital this is fitted in the very finest manner. Rooms for about thirty nurses are provided with an assembly room large enough for performances or commencement exercises.

Beggars Description The entire hospital layout beggars description. It is so well done, so splendidly done, that unless one can go through it and see for himself, no adequate idea of it can be gotten.

Thursday evening the formal opening will take place. City and state officials will be present, the physicians, ministers, industrial leaders and heads of civic organizations will also attend. Dr. C. J. Williamson will deliver the address of the evening, with Mrs. David Jameson, widow of the donor, turning over the hospital to the people.

On Friday and Saturday afternoons from two until ten p. m. the general public is invited to inspect the hospital and this opportunity should not be passed by every man and woman who is able to attend.

This will probably be the only time the public will ever be enabled to go through the hospital when there are no patients in and this one time opportunity should be embraced.

Not alone for the purpose of seeing the splendor of the place, but to see for themselves, the monument that David Jameson has left behind him in the memorial in brick and stone that will go on and on for years, a benefit to mankind and a growing blessing to the memory of the name Jameson.

size of the new building. It will join the old plant on the side nearest the Shenango river and runs toward Grant street.

To Landscape Ground. Some years ago Mr. Smith installed a garden in front of the office building of the plant. This garden has been partially destroyed with the building of the new kiln house but already workmen are engaged in the installation of a sunken garden. A rough stone wall is being built in a shape something like a horseshoe. Between it and the building will be a green hedge while inside the wall will be a fringe of shrubbery. In the center of the plot will be a lily pond which has already been excavated.

The building of the new tunnel kilns and kiln house will mean much for New Castle in an industrial way. While the cost alone of the addition is about $250,000 the increase in payroll will mean many times this to the city.

It is just another step in the advancement of an industry of which New Castle is justly proud. "I have more vision for the future of the Shenango Pottery company today than I did 25 years ago" said James M. Smith, president of the company.

Usually reticent concerning the plant the statement of Mr. Smith is one fraught with meaning for this city.

There's good in everything; and when billboards at last join end to end, the tourist can't steal so many roasting ears.

NEW VALUATION FOR TARIFF NOT LIKED IN SENATE

tion of duties for a half century or more.

Two Alternatives The valuation provision, already approved by the House, would offer two more alternatives in event information about selling prices abroad could not be obtained. The first of these alternatives would be the "United States value" plan, or the price at which the imported article is offered for sale in this country. The other would be a finding by the tariff commission as to the actual "cost of production" of the imported article.

A fifth plan of valuation would be invoked only if all other plans failed. This final alternative would be the levying of duties against imported articles on the basis of the American selling price of comparable American articles. This plan could be used only after the President had issued a proclamation declaring the true value of the imported article was not ascertainable.

Reed Has Proposal

Senator Reed (R) of Pennsylvania, however, has proposed that the "United States value" be used at all times. This has been the plea of Joseph C. Grundy, president of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers Association, for many years. Grundy argued that other valuations were unfair to American producers.

The Reed plan was doomed apparently because it would necessitate a rewriting of every rate in the new tariff bill. Reed proposed that if his plan were adopted the tariff commission be authorized to revise the rates, "translating" them from a "foreign valuation" basis to application under the "United States value" plan. He would give the commission two years to make all the changes.

Strong opposition to the change developed with the committee. Some members argued that adoption of the Reed plan would create tremendous confusion in the business world and unfair discriminations against different groups of importers during the period in which the rates were being changed. As a result it seemed entirely probable the committee would reject Reed's plan.

The question of continuing the President's rate-changing powers under the "flexible tariff" provision will be decided after the valuation question is settled. This provision, which empowered the President to raise or lower rates by 50 per cent to meet changing economic conditions, was reauthorized by the House to give the executive power.

The revised House plan would give him power to change rates to meet "differences in conditions of competition" although the existing law merely empowered him to meet "differences in costs of production". An additional feature would give him power to invoke rates against the American selling price of comparative articles—a far-reaching authority that has been widely assailed.

The Republican committee members meanwhile hoped to complete all these administrative features by Friday. They already have approved a raw section, allowing the President to set aside all tariff duties in event of war. He also was authorized to repeal tariff duties on supplies necessary to meet any great national emergency.

STAR LORE THE NAVIGATOR'S DAY PROBLEM SIMPLIFIED

By Arthur DeV. Carpenter So many are puzzled over the International Date Line that a brief explanation is important. A mariner navigating westward around the globe loses one hour upon the sun for every 15 degrees he advances. It is therefore evident that in navigating westward 360 degrees, or 24 times 15 degrees, one loses a whole day upon the sun. It matters not how long he is in making the circumnavigation. In like manner a voyage around the world eastward means a gain of one hour of time for every 15 degrees advanced, or 24 hours' gain in the entire voyage. Navigators correct these date discrepancies at the 180th meridian west of Greenwich.

Approaches To New Bridge To Be Erected

Preliminary Work Now Being Done, Says City Engineer

City Engineer Frank Miller today stated that preparations are underway to pave the approaches to the bridge which is being built across the Neshannock creek and which will connect Croton avenue and North street. He also stated that storm sewers needed will be constructed.

The storm sewer which is being built beneath Neshannock avenue and the extreme east end of North street will obviate the necessity of tearing up the sections when a new storm sewer is built along North street to connect with East street.

A 15 inch intersecting sanitary sewer also will be built beneath Neshannock avenue, at this time. This will also eliminate tearing up when a sanitary sewer is built on North street between Neshannock avenue and Norris way.

Beverage Plant Has Serious Fire

Damage To Extent Of $500 Is Done By Blaze Early Tuesday Afternoon

Fire which is believed to have originated from an oil stove in the rear of the bottling house did damage of around $500 at the establishment of the South Side Beverage Co., owned by Mike Covelli, early yesterday afternoon.

Central and No. 5 departments answered the alarm from box 61, and when they arrived on the scene they found the place a mass of flames. Only good work on the part of the firemen prevented the fire from spreading to adjoining buildings.

The entire loss is covered by insurance. Assistant Fire Chief Stockman was informed by the owner.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ABOUT THE

OLD GOLD CONCEALED NAME CIGARETTE TEST

Ask us another if we haven't answered here every question ever asked about it

QUESTION: Does OLD GOLD publish the score of every public test taken?

ANSWER: Yes... win, lose or draw!

QUESTION: Is OLD GOLD always the same number?

ANSWER: No. In the actual tests there are no numbers on the cigarette masks. The smoker, himself, tears off the paper masks and finds out for himself which cigarette he has chosen as best.

QUESTION: Is the Concealed Name Test a "guessing contest"? ... does the smoker attempt to guess brand names?

ANSWER: Decidedly not! The smoker states only which cigarette tastes best to him, and does not try to guess the name.

QUESTION: Who conducts these tests?

ANSWER: Never the makers of OLD GOLDs, or their agents. The tests are conducted by certified public accountants, or officials of the organization or institution under whose auspices the tests are given.

QUESTION: Are all competing brands equally fresh and in precisely the same condition?

ANSWER: All four brands are purchased before each test at the same time in the same store out of retail stock, just as the public buys them... and the clerk who sells them certifies the purchase.

QUESTION: Does the official conducting the test know which cigarette is which while the smoker is making the test?

ANSWER: No! The cigarettes are arranged in sets of four... one each of the four leading brands. Then they are masked... their names completely concealed. When the official hands out these masked cigarettes it is impossible for him, or anyone, to know one from another.

NOTE: Why not make this test yourself in your own home? We'll be happy to send you a set of the brand name masks and complete instructions... Write to P. Lorillard Co., 119 West 40th Street, New York City.

Our Wonder Age.
Work of Power Invisible.
Will the Talkies Teach?
Big Business Needed.

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1929, King Features
Synd., Inc.)

Almost half way around the world, with two stops, from Friedrichshafen to Tokyo, 8,500 miles in one hundred and two hours, skirting the Arctic, flying over cold Siberia, average speed 64 miles per hour.

Such is the achievement of the Zeppelin, and the magnificently efficient German people.

Truly it was written "It hath not yet been shown what we shall be." Who, reading of Elljah and his chariot of fire 20 years ago, would have imagined that Zeppelin flight around the world?

Dr. Eckener, an earnest German scientist, first among the princes of the air, his son, sharing responsibility of navigation; a British nobleman, fond of excitement, a trained journalist, recording new world history; the son of American millions enjoying the attention attracted by other men's achievements.

All these and many more, traveling together through the clouds, below a giant bag suspended by gas, driven around the world in defiance of gravitation, by another gas exploding.

And, consider that all the forces engaged in this great achievement are forces invisible.

You cannot see the human thought and genius that created the flying ship.

You cannot see the gas that holds the ship aloft in the air, which is another gas, and invisible.

You cannot see the gas that drives the engine.

Everything important involved in this flight is invisible to our eyes.

Yet foolish man will say "show me the wisdom that rules this universe. I believe only what I can see."

What will talking pictures do for us?

Everybody knows what silent pictures have done for human faces and clothing.

Millions of the desert go to the movies and buy American ready-made clothes. Young women from 12 years up imitate Mary Pickford's curls, or Miss Garbo's X-ray gazing.

Will talking pictures develop good voices and cause adoption of correct speech?

Millions that have seen silent pictures every day endeavor to look like their screen heroes and heroines. Will they try now to sound like them?

It is not possible to exaggerate the effect that talking pictures will have upon the speech of the nation.

It takes really "big business" to do things needed in this generation.

The American Telephone Company, tired of relying on uncertain crowded radio waves, will run a cable under the Atlantic from New York to London for telephone messages exclusively.

This one enterprise, including incidental cost, buildings in London, etc., will cost $200,000,000.

However, for your comfort, you may remember that some things even big business cannot undertake. Only Uncle Sam is big enough to attack them.

Big business admitted that it couldn't undertake the Boulder dam, much as it would have liked to construct it.

And big business should not finance a war. Not all the money in all the banks could do that. However, big business can grow bigger when the war is over and the profits begin to come in.

When women wanted to vote years ago, gentlemen with necks bared around their heads, said, "Let women go to war and fight if they want to vote." Many of the men had never been to war, but did not mention that.

Now 20 women have entered the airplane race from Santa Monica to Cleveland, an "air derby" for women only.

These young women will fly along the edge of the Pacific over the Rocky mountains to Cleveland.

And young women are not the only female fliers. An English woman, the Duchess of Bedford, 63 years old, has flown from England to India and back in seven days.

In courage—mental or physical, in honesty, self-sacrifice and devotion women are superior to men.

In works of genius women are yet to do equal or approach men. There is no doubt about it. Shakespeare, Michael Angelo or Newton.

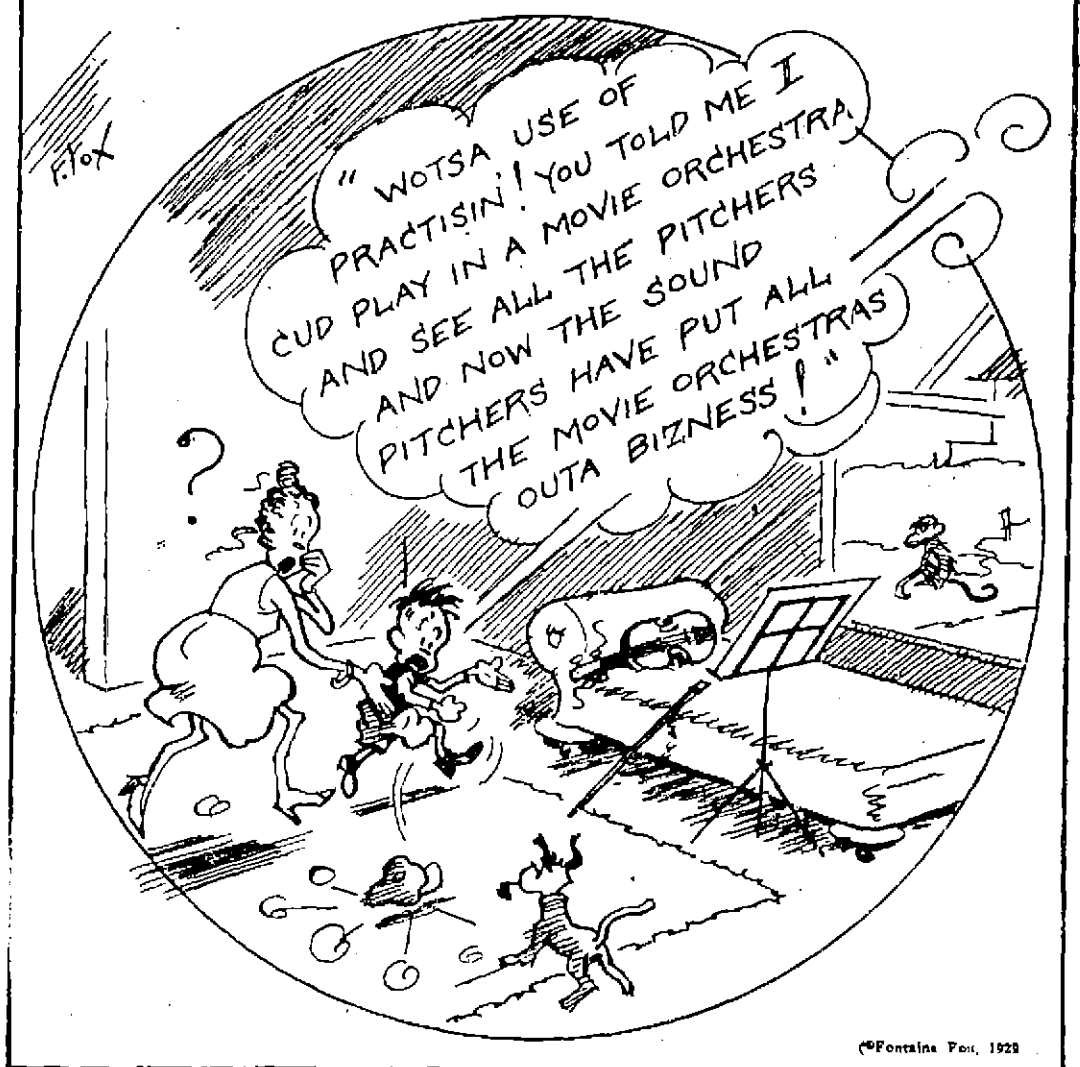

But each of these geniuses was created by some woman. And that mother was the real genius.

There are some queer ideas as to where bridges should be built. We think they should be built where they

Our idea of a good blacksmith is one who can shoe files.

We knew a bird once who gave some stiff away he did not want just to save himself the expense of paying for having it hauled to the dump.

Soup: Hash plus H 2 O.

The man who is always saying "No" is not any more liable to be right than the man who is always saying "Yes".

A bird was arrested in Philadelphia for marrying four women. He gave as an excuse for this extravagance that when he went to a strange town he got someone so just married someone for company. He is in jail and may be lonesome but he is safer there than on the outside where the four ladies are waiting for him. Omigod!

An 11-months-old baby in Pittsburgh got indigestion from drinking home brew and died. Home brew is one of the things that should be kept away from young babies.

An old-timer is one who can remember when wealth wasn't everything and any poor boy who made good was a "Professor".

Still wouldn't it be possible to publish a "celan" magazine without so obviously designing it for morons?

A deputy commissioner of prohibition says the drinking of liquor is injuring the health of dry agents. They have to drink liquor in order to get the evidence. There are a lot of birds who would drink the liquor all right who are not prohibition agents but getting them to give evidence would be impossible. All businesses have their drawbacks.

On Friday and Saturday of this week you will be able to go and see the inside of the new James Memorial hospital. It is one of the most wonderful hospitals in this country. Be sure and take a look at it on the days it is open for inspection.

In industrial centers where men work six days a week they must have some recreation. It should be parks and such. You cannot build up an industrial center and make folks sit at home all day with their fingers crossed. There are too many places where that is not demanded. Keep that in mind in your activities. No decent American wants to do anything that will detract from the great American Sunday.

It's a good thing Edison found the smartest boy. No other kind could survive the spotlight.

There are men who have quit smoking because their wives ordered them to quit.

An ex-cowboy has been named mayor of Omaha, Neb., for 20 years. In some places it is harder to be mayor, and the voters can hardly wait until the term is out before they want a new mayor.

There are people who think they can go into a newspaper office and take anything they might want. That's a mistake. A newspaper office is a private institution and the owners of it have a right to say what they will do. This might be a surprise to a lot of folks.

There are some queer ideas as to where bridges should be built. We think they should be built where they will do the most good or relieve congested traffic and that is not keeping the traffic or even more of it where it is just now. In order to relieve traffic you have to take it around the spot where it is not through it.

A man said where it was yesterday: "Some people just keep all the money they get."

"Raw vegetables develop strength and endurance." So for that matter do raw deals.

The pedestrian has one advantage on a one-way street. Knowing which way the inevitable is coming he can maneuver to take the bump on a soft spot.

Nearly four million bunches of bananas will be imported into this country from Mexico this year. We are going to have bananas anyhow, according to that.

General Motors has a machine to wear out fan belts. Doubtless something like the one laundries use on collars.

We believe that the owners of valuable property who refuse to improve it, refuse to sell it at a reasonable price should be taxed good and strong. There are lots of improvements that would have been made long ago if land could have been bought to do it and is still lying idle and in some cases with fire traps on it which is worse than idle.

The "insane" murderer wouldn't surrender to his crazy impulse, however if he knew it meant life among other caged madmen.

A picture postcard received by the Hints and Dints man from J. Lee Calahan, local Boy Scout executive, now in Europe, says the boys are all in fine shape. Weather has been cool and wet. Glad to hear from Lee and the boys.

PANTS From the time that Eve put on the fig-leaf effect and asked Adam whether he didn't think it would look a lot nicer if it were taken in a little at the waist, woman has inherently displayed a superior sense of beauty and taste to that of man in the selection of her clothes. From the simple gown of the Greek lady to the fluffy ruffles of the late nineties and the abbreviations of today's flapper, there has always been charm and grace to whatever woman wore, however much or little. And although man, at certain periods of history, has shown a bit of aesthetic sense in the fashion of his garments, he has more lately proven himself an adept at the other extreme. Indeed, the closer man came to that state which he calls civilization, the uglier became his fashions in clothing.

Let us suppose that somebody from Mars rocketed over to this plane and dropped into our midst. How would he size up these men of ours who represent the highest type of civilization? You can come close to the impression he would get by lifting yourself out from the influence of the environment in which you are living. Try it. Take a look at a man's clothes, dispassionately—and what do you see? Ugliness from head to foot. His pants are a pair of pipes. The tailor who first wished these pants on man must have received his inspiration from the pipe that led from his kitchen stove to the chimney. These pipes, through which his shanks are stuck, are connected with a basket to hold the seat and incidentally to hold the pipes together. Through all the years in which these pipes have served man for protection and adornment, and during which time women's fashions have run the gamut of hoop-skirts, bustles, long trains, straight fronts, flounces, short skirts and whatnots, the only changes in men's pants were wide bottoms, narrow bottoms, peg-tops, wide bottoms, narrow bottoms, peg-tops, repetitiously. And even these changes in fashion were hardly introduced so cautiously as to be hardly discernible.

For the coat, which convention compels man to wear regardless of how high in the sky the sun sits, we have a bag again with a pair of pipes through which the arms are stuck, and slip open down the front. An artistic bend-over at the shoulder-blade is the only part in the coat with which the arbiters of men's fashions dare play. One year a long lapel, the next year a short lapel, with the same repetitions that govern pants bottoms. Occasionally they become bolder and broaden the shoulders with padding, making the well-dressed man an even more ungraceful sight, if such a thing were possible.

Men who have a sense of humor such as will permit them to laugh at themselves, will see in the full-dress, the funniest costume that has ever been worn by human male. A slit tail at the back of the coat falling sharply from the waist at a point where the vertebrae end, is the holy totem of masculine dress. I've never put on one of these coats but what I felt like flapping my wings and springing into a dance of the nymphs. That's how funny the full-dress makes me feel. And on occasions where the company was dull and I fed into an abstract mood, I have caught myself laughing at what looked to me, for all the world, like a neck of funny penguins.

The farther back we go, from civilization to barbarism, the more art, grace and beauty we find in men's wear. Pre-historic man wore animal skins gracefully thrown over the shoulder. While these men wore their scanty clothing for protection from the climate, they also possessed a sense of beauty as may be seen from their preference for colored and patterned skins as well as for minor ornaments. The men of ancient history wore flowing gowns that fell about them in soft, pleasing folds. These gowns were not unlike those worn by the Turks of our own day until they were banned by decree in favor of modern pants—the irony of it! With the Middle Ages came elaborate dress with the ruffs about the neck and fancy cuffs at the wrists. Here again man showed a lack of sense in dress by carrying elaboration beyond the bounds of reason. It was Beau Brummell who brought them to their senses by designing for himself garments that were both simple and

Atlas Of American Dialects
Stirs Comment In Lighter Vein

Council Of Learned Societies Arouses Wide Interest With Preparation Of Its Survey But Few Feel It Will Affect Country As A Whole

Announcement by the American Council of Learned Societies of a forth-coming atlas of American dialects has stirred less pointed comment than the suggestion that some of the choicest colloquialisms which it will contain, notably those of our "folks" city, are now eligible to admission into the exclusive society of pure English.

Skepticism and even condemnation are mingled with conservative approval in the public discussion of the purpose of the American Council of Learned Societies to prepare a dialect atlas. This project is accompanied by the suggestion that these dialects may become authorized as parts of the correct speech of the people, but it is on this point that doubts arise.

"Shades of Chimmie Fadden!" exclaims the MUNCIE STAR. "He used to be a linguistic jest. Now he's on the road to becoming a stark reality. Back in the nineties, Chimmie was the literary impersonation of the Bowery, and quite the rage. He talked out of the side of his mouth, he sure did. A very spotty 'boy' was Chimmie—his best roll was a skit and he certainly was a bold. All this was humor then. But it's serious business now. None other than the linguistic experts tell us that Noo York is attaining respectability. The 'ol' boys are coming into commercial, political and cultural importance, so the Learned Society's leaders say. The ditty deal, produced a boost of indignation, and is polished by every supporter of decent speech."

The atlas, according to the SEATTLE DAILY TIMES, proposes to "bound the sectors of our country according to their peculiarities of speech—so sharply defined,—they declare, that one may mark the boundary between the land of the 'you-alls' and the 'I reckon' with a thin line. The World
AND THE Mud Puddles

Fifty-second installment of a Diary kept by Lawrence A. Wilson, of San Diego, California, upon his visit to Russia in 1928 published exclusively in The New Castle News.

RUSSIAN "THAWS" AT ZERO August 24, 1928.

I was awakened at four this morning by the nice German boys who occupy the next compartment. For we had come to the city of Irkutsk. This is the outfitting point for the reaches extending fifteen hundred miles into the extreme north-eastern part of Siberia. Irkutsk is the world's greatest fur market. Here are valuable and unique furs, such as lynx, sable, ermine, wolverine, white fox, polar hare and white bear. They are a rare sight!

In the early morning I saw the pack trains starting off for the Lena gold fields. I shivered as I saw sheds for the winter heated for the world's coldest place. Now in August they were already anticipating the terrible winter. This would be about the last of the trains to get through until Spring should break next June. In those gold fields the thermometer goes down to 104 below zero! But it seems that no temperature can chill the gold fever in man. In that cold spot on the globe are not only the world's greatest furs, but also the world's greatest gold. They dream of the time when they will be able to get out and spend all their gold for things which will compensate them for their arduous labors in getting it. I wonder!

I am told that it is only in winter time that Irkutsk really takes on life. Then these Siberians really wake up. The thermometer descends, the gale force winds howl and the gaudy light. You have perhaps heard the story which was told me here, concerning the Russian who was cold and aloof. No one could get him to warm up, no matter how genial the approach. Finally, one frigid February morning this Russian came up with a smile and glad hand, and said enthusiastically, "It's a fine day!" The man who told me the story said, "The man who told me the story said, 'It's a fine day!'"

We have come now to the sparkling waters of Lake Baikal. This is a shimmering, steel-blue gem, in a lovely setting of mountains. It is the largest body of fresh water in Asia. It is the starting point for boats which make their way westward into the Yenisei River; down to the confluence with the Ob and up the Irkutsk, and finally reach the Ural region in western Siberia, having traveled a devious course which has taken them over four thousand miles. The Volga boatman's song is not the only romantic recital of the adventures on the Russian water-ways.

We came to the point where the railway used to cross the lake on the ice. For a few brief months the trains would be ferried on great barge platforms after those on our Great Lakes. Sometimes a train would be marooned on a great cake of ice which would break off at the spring thaw. Now the railroad has been constructed around and through the steep walls surrounding the lake. We have plunged into scores of tunnels. For some miles it seemed as though we were passing through an almost continuous subterranean world. The Russian who told me this piece of railroad construction certainly rank among the wonder-workers of the world.

We are now climbing the Altai Mountains. The grades are steep, and we are making the slowest time of this long week of travel. The Ural Mountains were mere foot hills compared with these rugged steep.

The Least Gift—And whosoever shall give to drink unto one of these little ones a cup of cold water only in the name of a disciple, verily I say unto you, he shall in no wise lose his reward.—Matthew 10:42.

STEEL PRODUCTION IS NEAR CAPACITY

Shipments Cutting Heavily Into Backlogs, But Industry Fails To Suffer

Mill Operations Throughout This District Are Reported As Satisfactory

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 21.—Although shipments are cutting heavily into backlogs in some lines, a decrease in the demand for steel has yet to be reflected definitely in mill operations, the Iron Age will say in its weekly summary of the steel situation tomorrow. Most districts report mills still operating at a near capacity rate.

Declining specifications have affected mostly the automobile steels including body sheets, strip steel and bars, the magazine will say, while other products are for the most part remaining on high production schedules. The most active lines are building construction and the manufacture of oil tanks, fabricated pipe, farm tractors and steam shovels.

Plates Are Strongest
"Plates are in the strongest position among finished steel products," the Iron Age will say. "Chicago plate mills are booked for four to ten weeks and Pittsburgh mills from six to eight weeks. In sheets, specifications are holding up fairly well, despite the decline in consumption by the automobile industry."

"The leading sheet producer is operating its mills at just under 100 per cent, this week and has a backlog sufficient for 60 days. Tin plate demand is receding, however, partly because the bulk of the season's requirements has been covered, but also on account of lessened needs in California where crop damage has reduced the food pack. Some strip steel mills have reached the point of being in actual need of orders."

The Iron Age composite prices remain at last week's levels, that for pig iron at $18.42 a ton and that for finished steel at 23.98 cents a pound.

Hints And Dints

beautiful. And dating from Beau Brummell's departure from the world of fashion, man's clothes took a tail-spin and landed in a morass from which it has been unable to extricate itself. And now let us raise up our eyes and gaze upon man's headgear. The fedora—a soft felt with a slit across the top that serves as a gutter when it rains—the same unsightly hat, year in and year out. But for the superlative in ugliness, assiduity and uselessness, the derby takes first prize, even ahead of the silk topper, popularly known as the "pig" hat. The dough-boys were "tin hats" for protection from shrapnel. These hats were rounded so that when struck the shrapnel would be apt to glance off. But as for the rounded derby, no historian, so far as I know, has ever advanced a reason for its existence. Made of felt loaded down with glue to stiffen it, and shaped to the form of a dome, it rests heavily on the head, leaving its mark of red on the outside and an ache on the inside.

The derby has lost caste in the past few years and though efforts have been made to bring it back there is hope that it will not return to favor. This hope carries promise by reason of the fact that men are favoring the cap which, though far from being as attractive as it is comfortable, points the way to a headgear for men that will serve as a protection from cold and heat and be attractive as well.

My prophesy is that it will not be many years before the fashion in hats for men will be something like the beret worn by the peasants in the Pyrenees, or the tam-o-shanter worn by Scotchmen. It would be a simple matter of evolution, hardly more than a step or two, for the present-day cap to grow into a soft, graceful head-covering that would give protection to the head and pleasure to the eye.

Perhaps come Stetson genius may bring this about. And with this advance, who can say what we may live to see men discard their pants and discard them for a garment that will protect the body, be pleasing to look upon and yet will not lose their masculinity.

STAGE SET BY

TEMPTATION

Upon the shelf a jam jar shone.

Near-by a kitchen chair.

A little fellow all alone

Within the pantry there.

Now granting that the cook was out

And mother absent, too.

And you were young. Have you a doubt?

Of what you'd think to do?

Would you remember you were told

To leave all sweets alone?

If you were only seven years old

And scarcely four feet grown.

Would you walk solemnly away

And give the little hero a slam.

"I will not touch the jam!"

With things precisely as they are.

Near-by the kitchen chair.

In sight, in reach, the strawberry jar.

And no grown person there.

Wouldn't you do the same as he?

And when you left the place,

Isn't it likely there would be

Jam stains upon your face?

A FIGHT TO FINISH

Peter's curiosity knew no bounds. "One isn't coming out! What in the world do you mean?"

"I've always heard humans were smart, but I think you are very dumb. But since you are so stupid I may as well give you a lesson in Bee-OLGY. We don't interfere with the fighting Queen bees because we do want one to hurt the other. Indeed, one of them must kill the other. We shall make those Queens fight until one of them is dead."

"You are the cruelest persons I have ever met," said Peter, in disgust. "See, one of the poor creatures is tired out already. I believe yes, I am sure, that is the one who came out first. Surely you can let her rest for a while."

"We cannot. That would make it possible for the fight to go on all the longer. In spite of what you think we bees are not cruel. We want the fight finished as soon as it can be," buzzed the disagreeable Bee. "There, I thought so! The second Queen has just stung her rival under the wing and that finishes it. The struggle is over."

But it seemed as if the anger of the beautiful victor had been growing stronger with success. Without a glance at her victim, who had fallen at her feet with a pitiful moan, she rushed to the cells where other Queens were waiting their turn to come out, and tearing down the waxen walls she stung every unsuspecting Bee so that she should never live to rule.

Now at last the new Queen's rage was at an end and she turned toward her waiting subjects and sang a song of triumph. The Bees were very proud of the conqueror's strength and beauty and not a bit angry at her cruelty, as Peter half hoped they would be.

"Long live our noble Queen!" they buzzed. The triumphant queen blew his little trumpet, the drones paid court to her, and joyously the workers set to repairing the walls of the broken cells.

Next: "The Old Order Changes."

MOTHERS now learn value of MAGNESIA

Because it is so helpful in keeping babies and children healthy and happy, every mother should know about Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. This harmless, almost tasteless preparation is most effective in relieving those symptoms of babies and children generally caused by souring food in the little digestive tract, such as sour-belching, frequent vomiting, feverishness, colic. As a mild laxative, it acts gently, but certainly, to open the little bowels in constipation, colds, children's diseases.

A teaspoonful of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia does the work of half a pint of lime water in neutralizing cow's milk for infant feeding, and preventing hard curds. Its many uses for mother and child are fully explained in the interesting book "Useful Information." It will be sent you, FREE, Write The Phillips Co., 117 Hudson St., New York, N. Y.

In buying, be sure to get genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. Doctors have prescribed it for over 50 years. "Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Chas. H. Phillips Chemical Co. and its predecessor, Chas. H. Phillips, since 1875.

Bo Broadway by JOSEPH VAN RAALTE

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—A portly, fat man, skidded under a six-car train, the other day and strange to relate, he appeared unscathed, physically, with a smile around both his ears.

He was positive he wasn't injured, but "Boy!" he ejaculated, "Ah such witnessed some nasty scenery!"

WHAT NEWSPAPERMEN CAN DO

When prohibition hit town one of the best known and most prosperous Dispensary Dens in the Alcohol Belt was Jack's, on Sixth Avenue, opposite the Hippodrome.

John Dunston, the proprietor, started by serving porterhouse steak and fried potatoes for 60 cents a portion. Left to his own devices he probably would have slipped into the discard with scores of other mediocre hash-house keepers had it not been for the newspapermen.

The nominal cost of tying on the nosegay at Jack's in the early days appeared to the scribbles. They got into the habit of taking their glow there and every now and then a yarn would creep into print touchin' on an 'appertainin' to the place. More stories followed and pretty soon old man Dunston became famous, and Jack's became a profitable hangout for trouper and their press agents. Later came the college boys, the Out-of-Town-Man-About-Town and a non-descript fringe of pencil wielders and key pounders.

Dunston himself never deserved he could have gone right on running the joint till the day of his death, nurturing memories among his sentimental clientele. But the only memories he had any respect for were the kind that paid cash dividends.

John Dunston made the mistake of measuring life by the yardstick of dollars.

PROGRESS?

A tally-ho bowed along Fifth Avenue the other day with rattling harness chains and flashing, multi-colored plumes. The bird with the Gabriel trumpet arose in his place in the stern of the vehicle and into the stilt, summer air there floated the old-time silver bar "Ta-Ta-Ta-Rah-h-h-Ta-Ta-Ta" followed immediately by the cold, prosaic imperative shrill of a traffic cop's whistle. And up drew the tally-ho, indignantly to await the westward course of a stream of variegated taxis and vintage Fords.

It was old Joe Conrad who defined modern progress as "Canned salmon."

If it takes something out of the ordinary to make good news, then why in heck do the papers even mention auto accidents?

"Now I keep my underthings like new twice as long .. thanks to Lux"

"I JUST love pretty underthings, and I do have more dainty things than most of my friends, even girls who spend much more!"

"My secret is simple. I got the suggestion from a friend who held a position in an exclusive New York shop. She told me they always washed models' underthings and hosiery in Lux, because they found Lux kept them looking like new more than twice as long."

"Since then I've always been careful to use Lux for underthings, negligees, stockings, dresses."

"They stay new much longer! Some of my nicest lingerie is 3 years old—and still looks new. That gives me money to buy extra things which I could never afford if it weren't for Lux."

Give your pretty underthings this marvelous Lux care that keeps them like new so much longer! Then, instead of spending all your clothes-money replacing worn out things, you, too, can afford many more pretty clothes!

FAMOUS New York dress-makers say, "Lux keeps sheer underthings and hosiery new looking twice as long." (Above) pretty model for exclusive Fifth Avenue establishment, in lovely lingerie and negligee.

Jordan Tells Why Quarantine Is Necessary

Pennsylvania Farms And Nurseries Have Entire World As Market

NEEDLESS SPREAD OF PESTS IS SOUGHT

HARRISBURG, Aug. 21.—"Pennsylvania farms and nurseries, representing investments of millions of dollars, have the entire world as a market," state Secretary of Agriculture C. G. Jordan, in explaining the absolute necessity of federal and state quarantine against plant pests.

"No state, in such favorable circumstances, can afford to disregard local outbreaks of devastating insects which as yet infest only very small portions of the entire country. Other states and countries are just as anxious to have the needless spread of Japanese beetles and European corn borers stopped as are people in the unfested portions of our own commonwealth."

"Therefore, when you are stopped at the quarantine line and your vehicle is searched for carriers of beetles or borers, remember this inspection is a part of a national program. The Federal Plant Quarantine Law requires that such quarantines be established and the U. S. government provides almost twice as much money for doing control work as does Pennsylvania. Unless the state fully co-operates, the federal authorities, in justice to other states, must quarantine the entire state. Such a procedure would greatly handicap, if not shut off, important features of our extensive farm trade with other sections of the country."

75,000,000 Plants Certified.

"Fortunately, through her effective work in co-operation with the federal government and other states, Pennsylvania has retained the confidence and good will of buyers of our products the world over. Last year 75,000,000 plants, 6,000,000 packages of farm produce, 10,000 cars of sand and soil, 65,000 bales of hay, and 25,000 boxes of cut flowers were certified for shipment out of the Japanese Beetle area alone. Without this certification—without this means of satisfying other states and countries that every reasonable precaution is being taken to protect them—our producers would be deprived of important outside markets or would have to comply with all sorts of restrictive measures enforced by other states."

"Even more important than the establishment of quarantine lines, is the employment of capable men as inspectors. The federal and state governments deem it advisable that only men of the highest character, with a knowledge of insects and plant life, be employed. This applies to the scouts as well as to the farm products and nursery inspectors."

Scouting Work Essential. "The scouting work is done largely by the federal government as a basis for effective control work. The exact area and density of infestation are determined by the scouts so that parasites may be released to the greatest advantage and the territory quarantined may be kept at the absolute minimum."

"We are happy to say that last year, Pennsylvania cleaned up a larger corn borer infested area and showed a greater decrease in borer infestation than any other state."

"The beetles and corn borers are staging a mighty offensive. The battle is the concern of people 2,000 and 3,000 miles away the same as our own citizens. It is a fight for the nation, not merely for Pennsylvania."

Work Delayed When Steam Shovel Breaks

Work on excavating for the new Gilliland building on North Jefferson street was delayed yesterday when the boiler on the steam shovel began leaking and it was necessary to close it down for repairs.

Good progress has been made on the excavation work and the task of laying the foundation for the new building should be gotten under way within the next 10 days, providing the weather holds good.

The nations at The Hague are now trying to pin the label of "Uncle Shylock" on Great Britain because it is demanding more reparations than the Young plan allows. This should make for closer Anglo-American friendship. —The Courier-Journal, Louisville.

Irving Berlin Is Changed Man Now, Praises Reporters

Popular Composer Returning From Europe Invites Reporters For Interview

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—"Every man in public or semi-public life who has any dealings with the press had better have a good experienced newspaper man at his side as counselor."

This was the statement Tuesday of Irving Berlin who at the time of his romantic marriage to Elin Mackay, sedulously dodged newspapermen, but who upon his arrival on the Ile De France invited reporters to his suite to interview himself and his wife.

"If I had to do over again" he said, "I'd have been absolutely frank and outspoken with the press. Silence arouses suspicion. Perhaps it is a challenge. I'll never be reticent again."

"Did you and Mrs. Berlin meet her father, Clarence Mackay while you were abroad?" he was asked.

He refused to reply.

Legal Adviser For Zeppelin Works To Visit United States

(International News Service) FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Germany, Aug. 21.—Dr. Schmidt, legal adviser of the Zeppelin works, announced he would leave for New York Tuesday to prepare for the arrival of Dr. Hugo Eckener, commander of the Graf Zeppelin and for the opening of negotiations for the formation of a German-American Airship corporation. The proposed company would establish airlines between Europe and North and South America.

American financiers are reported to be inclined to back the project if the present world flight is a success. One of the Americans who may give financial assistance is William E. Leeds, rich young New Yorker, who is a passenger on the Graf.

Reports that the Goodyear Rubber company, of the United States, would participate in the proposed company were denied here.

Returns To College After Forty One Years; Amazed At Progress

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Aug. 21.—Forty-one years ago J. P. Crawford of Beloit, Wis., had attended the prep school of Westminster college for three years. He departed then and did not return to the college town until one day several weeks ago. His stay was short but his subsequent letter vividly pictures the striking difference of a forty year change.
In his letter to the Hope Sisters, with whom he stayed in 1888, Mr. Crawford writes that the difference between the fences, dirt roads, wooded hills, and great expanses of yesterday and the paved modernness of today made today's college town seem like another world.
But Mr. Crawford's greatest difficulty with his new New Wilmington was the seeming change in distances.

FINE FLAVORS BRING JOY TO EATING

Sugar is the Greatest Condimental Food in the World
Flavor! How much that means to all growing children and to all adults who enjoy their meals. What delight flavor brings to the palate. What satisfaction to a jaded appetite. And what flavor surpasses the unique sweetness of sugar?

The sentences above were not spoken, as might be supposed, by a great chef or even by a successful woman cook. They are the words of an eminent scientist, spoken while he was discussing the subject of sugar and diet.
Dieticians, medical specialists and scientific authorities all emphasize the importance of a varied, balanced diet. And how many of the useful foods are practically tasteless. How many worth-while foods, if taken "straight," would be so monotonous that we would soon tire of them. This is where sugar enters the domain of the healthful diet. A pinch of sugar used in the cooking of vegetables (preferably cooked with little water) makes these important foods fresher, more colorful and more delightful to the taste. A dash of sugar makes the eating of fruits and cereals a positive pleasure.
The well-informed woman uses correct amounts of sugar in making milk desserts—junkets, custards, puddings, etc.—thus helping her family to eat the needed quantity of milk. Remember stewed fruits, cakes and cookies and ice cream for dessert. A bit of sweet makes the meal complete. The Sugar Institute.

Plymouth excels in motor car Essentials

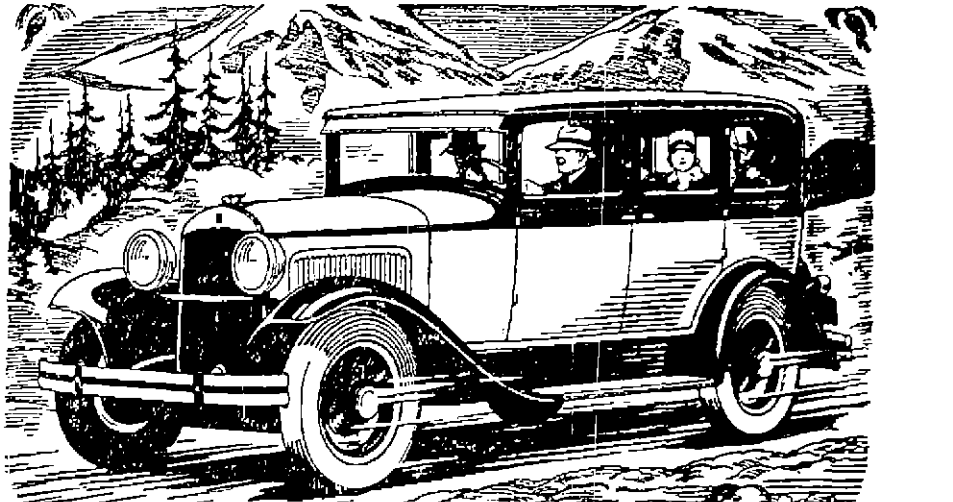

THE four things to consider most in selecting a motor car, are: The body, wherein you ride; the engine, which makes the car go; the brakes, on which your safety depends; the first cost and the economy of operation and maintenance, which affect your pocketbook.

ROOMIEST, STRONGEST, MOST STYLISH BODIES
Plymouth bodies are full-size—measuring the entire low-priced field in leg-room, elbow-room and head-room. Plymouth bodies are the strongest to be found on any automobile at either a low or a medium price. Plymouth bodies are fortified for silence and safety, yet smartly styled.

SMOOTHEST, QUIETEST ENGINE
The Plymouth power plant follows throughout the basic principles of Chrysler engineering—with Chrysler-like results, performance that is flexible, smooth, swift and quiet.

SUREST, SAFEST BRAKES
The full-size Plymouth is by far the safest low-priced car on the road. It is the only low-priced car with Chrysler weatherproof internal-expanding four-wheel hydraulic brakes, always self-equalizing and noiseless.

LOW UPKEEP COST
The Plymouth is America's lowest-priced full-size car. More than that—its simple, rugged and efficient engine benefits you by a remarkably sparing use of gasoline and oil, and guarantees you a minimum need of the attention of the service station.

Coupe, $655; Roadster (with rumble seat), $675; 2-Door Sedan, $675; Touring, $695; De Luxe Coupe (with rumble seat), $695; 4-Door Sedan, $695. All prices f. o. b. factory. Plymouth dealers extend the convenience of time payments.

EXPRESSION IN WORK.
Years ago furniture and most of the things people used were hand made. Today almost everything is machine made. Making things by hand, workmen put something of themselves into the task and into the product. Personality found expression. It made itself felt in the chair and in the table. That is why discriminating people like antique furniture. They find in it a beauty and a "personality" that can never find its way into machine-made products.

THE GUILTY CONSCIENCE.
Those who do not analyze life very carefully are likely to think a guilty conscience betrays itself. They believe that persons guilty of a wrong act are sure to show their guilt in their behavior. The trouble with this theory is that it does not check up with the facts. Guilty persons are usually prepared for discovery. They conceal their feelings. Those not guilty suddenly accused of wrong doing are confused, irritated, perhaps hurt.
COMFORT.
The boy chosen by Edison for a technical education and to be given every chance to succeed the master inventor, in his work said one thing in answer to an examination which must have pleased the wizard. The boy said he would sacrifice his comfort for success. He didn't say he would sacrifice love or honor or any of life's greatest possessions but he said he would sacrifice comfort.
That is just where so many boys fall. They are willing to work hard if they like the work. They are willing even to sacrifice some things they should not sacrifice. But they are not willing to give up comfort.

Gaston Post To Seek Next State Legion Meeting

Will Petition Scranton Convention To Have 1930 Session Held Here

PLANS BEING LAID FOR BIG MEMBERSHIP

When delegates from Perry S. Gaston Post, No. 348, American Legion leave for the annual state Legion convention at Scranton next week, they will be fully prepared to let the entire state know that New Castle wants the 1930 state Legion convention brought to this city.

The four delegates, Commander Ivor V. Davis, and Pat J. Dempsey, Bernard Hook and H. H. Rosenbush will be armed with a huge banner, proclaiming the fact that New Castle wants the convention. This will be posted in a conspicuous place in the convention hall, and the four delegates and down members of the post who will accompany them, will noise the word abroad that this gesture is no idle one.

It is hardly probable that the 1930 convention will be brought here as Harrisburg also has bid in for the next year's meeting when a Memorial bridge erected at a huge cost, is to be dedicated. However, it will mean that New Castle will stand a mighty good chance of getting the convention in 1931 and it is this fact that the local delegates want impressed on the minds of the 60,000 Legionaries in Pennsylvania.

Already plans are being laid to further impress the state powers by their membership showing next year, when it is confidently expected that the post will go well over the 500 mark. The post in the past year has built its membership up to the greatest number recorded with the exception of the first year of its organization, at which the dues were a nominal sum. A lively battle is expected to ensue as officers are nominated which will occur in September, as much of the future success of the post will depend on an efficient corps of officers. Indications point to the coming year being the biggest in the history of the post, with many fine activities projected. During the past summer the post became interested in Boy Scout work, an active committee having been named which is planning a number of interesting events for the boys during the coming fall season. This will be carried on during the coming year.

Mercer Jail Houses Seventy Prisoners

New High Record For Summer Months Established In Mercer County, Figures Show

MERCER, Pa., Aug. 21.—In jail for the summer are 80 prisoners, 70 of them men. The number is the average prison roll for the last three months and establishes a new high record for summer months in Mercer county jail totals the records show. The increase is due to the liquor defendants being sent to the county jail by Judge J. A. McLaughry that previously were sent to the work house. The term of Sheriff Dan Callahan will be the largest in this respect of any county officer. During his four years as sheriff W. A. Bone handled 3200 men and women. This was an increase of several hundreds over the term of Sheriff Dave Jarrett whose prison roll exceeded in total any previous official up to his time.

COAL COMPANY SUE
Filed this week in the office of the county prothonotary is a law suit to collect $4,000 from the Sharon Coal and Limestone company with Laura Johnson of New Wilmington township the plaintiff. The money is alleged due the woman as royalty on coal land in Liberty township.

So far as the records show these litigants out-distance all others in longevity of litigation. Suit was brought by the woman against this company in 1909 on another phase of the contract made by her with the company. This suit was settled only last year by the Superior court the opinion of which tribunal established a ruling the strength of which this suit was brought.

WAR ON SPEEDERS
Mercer officials have taken cognizance of the use of the town's streets for speedways on the part of local and touring motorists to the extent that they promise residents relief from the dread and fear of being killed in crossing streets.

The speeding has reached a point where it is reported as a public nuisance and menace to the lives of residents. Drastic action of the kind that will stop the practice is forecasted by those who have talked to the rate officials.

TO BUILD HUGE BRIDGE
The largest bridge ever built in Mercer county but not the most expensive will be that at Grove City reaching from Chestnut street across Wolf creek to the populous East End district of the college town.

By action of the commissioners today bids are asked on this structure returnable on September 10th. County Engineer F. P. Graham reports the structure to have an overall dimension of 419 feet with 300 of this total the bridge itself, the remainder of the bridge, the roadway of the bridge will be built of steel and concrete will be 22 feet with two six foot sidewalks. The cost is estimated at $75,000 to be shared by the county and town in a contract drawn and signed by these officials in which the county pays the major of the cost.

The bridge was approved for construction by views and grand jurors several years ago. The last board of commissioners approved its building which has been held in obedience until this time due to shortage of finances.

Lady Thankful For Famous Ten Herbs; Gave Her Glorious Health.

Another tribute is paid the new medicine, Ten Herbs, because of its amazing power to relieve health troubles that have resisted many other medical preparations. That is where this celebrated compound exhibits its superiority over other medicines, because its ten wonderful natural ingredients really make it ten medicines in one, hence the far-reaching results it gives when taken into the ailing human system. Ten Herbs cleanses and tones up the important organs, such as stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, and relieves rheumatism, neuritis and nervousness. No wonder there is such a great demand of Ten Herbs at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, this city, where this popular preparation is being introduced.

"I certainly am thankful for what Ten Herbs did for me, as I had tried many different kinds of medicines without getting satisfactory relief from my suffering," said Mrs. Adam Wagner, 858 Salsman Street, North Side, Pittsburgh, Pa. "I used to suffer from indigestion. Everything I ate seemed to sour on my stomach. Gas would form and caused considerable distress. I was troubled with headaches and hot flashes for two years, and had rheumatism in my knees for six months."

"Ten Herbs gave me lasting relief from rheumatism, headaches and hot flashes. It also put an end to indigestion and gas on my stomach. Even the first bottle made me feel much better, and after using three bottles, I felt like a new person. I am more than glad to endorse Ten Herbs to the public."

Ten Herbs is Nature's medicine for indigestion, gas, bloating, biliousness, dizziness, specks before the eyes, headaches, constipation, pains and aches across the back, frequent rising at night, loss of appetite, sleeplessness, and a general weak, run-down condition.

Ten Herbs is being introduced at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, this city, and is sold at all drug and medicine stores throughout this entire section.

Chinese Troops Have Repulsed Soviet Forces

Major Battle Of 24 Hours' Duration Reported From Manchurian Front

NINETY CHINESE SOLDIERS KILLED

Russians Attempt To Cross River By Pontoon But Are Forced Back

By JOHN R. GOETTE, International News Service Staff Correspondent
PEIPING, Aug. 21.—Full details of what is purported to be a major battle of 24 hours' duration, in which Chinese troops on the Manchurian border are reported to have repulsed an entire regiment of Soviet Russian troops, were reported here today in both foreign and Chinese circles.
One regiment of Russian troops, comprising 21 airplanes, a number of tanks, machine-guns, cavalry and artillery, was reported to have attempted to cross the Hailar river at Dalainor by means of a pontoon bridge, attacking the Chinese defenses on the eastern side of the river.
Ninety Chinese soldiers were killed in the attack, but the Russians were repulsed, the reports said. The battle raged all day Saturday.

Failing to force a crossing, the Russians withdrew from the west bank of the river during Sunday and Monday.
Chinese military authorities today were rushing reinforcements to the western front, while Red partisans, reported here to be bands of the Russian Foreign legion, consisting of Koreans and Magyars enlisted in the Soviet army, were said to be conducting a campaign of burning and pillaging towns in the vicinity of Suifuho and Sunmeiho, on the Eastern Manchurian frontier.
Residents of this territory were reported to be in a state of panic.

Spout Inspection Move Of Council Is Near Failure

City Engineering Department Employees May Take Up Burden

It looks very much, according to city hall reports as though the councilmatic move to investigate rain water spouts discharging water into city sanitary sewers has collapsed. In the near future the city engineer, he indicated today, will send city engineering department employees into districts to find violations of the law. Some time ago a list of eligible men for the positions as inspectors was recommended to council and approved. Some were named. They worked for a time and only one violation was discovered. It is said. The city engineer believes that there are more than this. It is probable Assistant Engineer Hoskins will head the inquiry.

BRITAIN PLANS FOR EVACUATION

(International News Service)
THE HAGUE, Aug. 21.—The German delegates to The Hague reparations conference took the center of the stage today, trying to force a solution of the problems which have the parley deadlocked.
Following the presentation of a written memorandum asking the allied delegates to speed up their deliberations, Foreign Minister Gustav Stresemann of Germany, began preparation of a speech for delivery this afternoon at a meeting of the British, French, Belgian, Italian, Japanese and German groups.
Foreign Minister Stresemann is asking, in the event of a complete break down of the conference, first, the extent of reparations payments Germany will have to make after September 1; second, the intention of the powers regarding Rhineland occupation.

The Dawes plan was to end September 1 and the Young plan was to become effective, but ratification of the Young plan by the governments of the interested powers has been held up by British demands for revision of the Young plan so that Great Britain will get additional reparations from Germany.
Great Britain has announced her intention of beginning the evacuation of the Rhineland next month, but the French and Belgians are holding back.

Disarmament Cause Is Strengthened By MacDonald—Dawes

Both Men Are Working Hard For International Conference Of Wide Scope

Progress Of Results Of Recent Conference Is Withheld

By HARRY R. FLORY, International News Service Staff Correspondent
LONDON, Aug. 21.—The plans of Prime Minister J. Ramsay MacDonald and American Ambassador Charles G. Dawes for naval disarmament had advanced another step forward today with the revelation that both are working for an international disarmament conference of wide scope and that assumption of the Washington conference may result much earlier than had been expected.
In an official statement from his home in Lissiemouth, Scotland, Premier MacDonald revealed that his and Ambassador Dawes' disarmament efforts had been proceeding without interruption, and while he was loath to give out details of the results thus far achieved, he held out hopes for an international conference of outstanding importance in the near future.
Resume Conversation
The premier's statement was issued after Ambassador Dawes had arrived at Lissiemouth for resumption of their disarmament conversations, which have been going on at intervals ever since the former American vice-president arrived here to take over the post of ambassador.
"General Dawes came to exchange views with me upon a message from Washington, which I am studying," MacDonald's statement said. "As an answer to one I sent from here shortly after my arrival it marks a distinct advance in our conversations.
"We have been working all the time at the problems which have hitherto baffled the representatives of both countries, as, for instance, at the Geneva Naval Conference, of how to reconcile three positions.
Three Positions
"1.—The American claims for parity, which we admit.
"2.—The British necessities, which have no relation at all with American building, but which are determined by our relations to and responsibilities in the rest of the world.
"3.—The desire, common to both governments, to reduce armaments."
The statement told how the two statesmen had succeeded in making progress through the seemingly im-

Club Hears S-51 Diver At Noon

Tells Of Salvage Operations That Brought Sub To Surface

Describing in complete detail the salvage operations that marked the raising of the sunken U. S. Navy submarine S-51 in 1926, Francis T. Smith, in charge of diving work at that time, delivered one of the most interesting messages that has been heard for some time at the weekly Kiwanis club meeting at noon.
Smith recounted how divers tunneled passageways under the huge ship in an attempt to raise it to the surface after it had collided with a coast guard steamer off the Massachusetts coast in September, 1925. He recalled how they had all but raised it once when the strain was too great and the sub went crashing to the bottom for a second time. In July of 1926 it was finally raised and floated by pontoons to drydock, where the bodies of those aboard at the time of the crash were removed.
The speaker, during the salvage work on the submarine, was first assistant to Commander Edward Ellsworth, who was in general charge of the work. Ellsworth it will be remembered, has become noted as the author of the book, "On the Bottom."

City Manager Plan Wins Out

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 21.—The city manager from of municipal government today survived its third test at the hands of Cleveland's electorate.
By a majority of more than 3,000, the charter amendment, which sought to oust the manager plan and replace it with the old mayor-ward-council system, was defeated in Cleveland's special election. The final tabulation of the 97,155 votes cast yesterday showed today.

Big Scout Camp Is Only Memory

Lawrence County Scouts Regret End of Great Jamboree

OBJECT OF MUCH INTEREST AT FETE

By EARLE K. HERBERT.

(Special News Correspondent.)

AROWE PARK, England, Aug. 12.—The scouts were given orders to pack everything but toilet sets and one change of clothing in their duffel bags all other equipment to be in their knapsack. This will make it possible to tour without the trouble of dragging all their luggage with them. The surplus will be forwarded direct to the S. S. California where it will be placed in the boys own storeroom awaiting his arrival.

Everything is havoc here as the boys pack, unpack include and exclude some part of their uniform. Boys are bidding others, some from one nation, some from another all good-bye.

AROWE PARK, England, Aug. 12.—Warm bright day. It seems as last that the nice weather has fallen for our long days of wishing. At last the sun shines brightly over Arrowe Park. The mud has dried and the grass in places again showing signs of life. Activity around the camp has been in the preparation of returning to their respective places. Denmark has already pulled out while Germany is hurriedly pulling stakes and folding their tents for departure. The American camp is rather quiet on account of Sunday but the boys continue to visit other camps.

J. Lee Calahan, visited the camp for a long time today remaining for dinner and then outlining for the boys the procedure to be taken the next few days. Everything has been arranged for the final day in camp, and while the visitors still come and go the Lawrence County Scouts are adjusting themselves for the word to pack.

Mott is visiting the park today but as yet not doing much trading. When asked about Connor he replied "Connors is at church where I should be and where he needs to be. Just what he means is kind of hard to us unless he meant that he doesn't like our camp."

AROWE PARK, England, Aug. 10.—The nice weather along with the United States national pageant today proved to be the best drawing card of the entire jamboree. At noon when the ropes were lowered and visitors permitted to view the grounds, thousands of people swarmed into the park heading direct to the large arena where the pageant was in process for staging at 3 o'clock. Shortly after 2:30 and before the performance commenced the large stadium was filled to capacity or a crowd of more than fifty thousand people. During the next hour the owners continued to come until it was finally announced that more than eighty thousand civilian visitors had paid admission to the park and over 25,000 uniformed visitors who were admitted free of charge. Many thousands were unable to see the grand spectacle being staged in the center of the large arena.

The huge arena was being conducted similar to a three ring circus. One nation was demonstrating in the left ring of the arena, another nation would be giving theirs in the right ring while the United States was presenting their national pageant in the large center ring. They had large microphones and broadcast the parts over the entire area as well as to other parts of the world. It depicted the history and growth of America. First came the Indians, more than a hundred of them part of which were the Lawrence county scouts. As the Indians danced in their hideous war paint the writer was in the observing stand where many amusing and enjoyable remarks were taking place among the spectators. One lady said "and they say their ways are terrible," another asked "Are they real American Indians?" Oh, they should not be allowed to run around loose as they are doing. One lady observed viewed the scene for a few minutes in quiet then asked "Are they truly real Indians?" and upon being informed that they were yelled OH MY GOD and silently fainted away. The Red Cross quickly removed her to the camp hospital.

The second scene depicted the early explorers and pioneers in the history of America. The scene unfolded the events of this episode, scouts appeared in costume to represent Ponce De Leon, Balboa, De Soto, Captain John Smith, the Seminole Indians, Pilgrims, Massasoit, Tecumseh, forty-niners, cow-boys, Jackson, Lincoln, Roosevelt and Daniel Beard.

In the third episode they depicted "How scouting came to America", through the good turn of a scout in directing W. D. Boyce of Chicago and an American, to his hotel after having lost himself in a London fog. The boy refused the offered tip, which interested Boyce who brought the idea of scouting back to America, and helped to organize a program for the boys of his country. Then followed a grand entry of all the scouts representing American scouting of the present day. They were all dressed in official uniform and numbered about twelve hundred in parade. Each group of scouts then proceeded to march past and hurriedly do some particular phase in scouting. They demonstrated "pioneering groups", wall scaling, signaling, voice and pep drills, pyramids, fancy drill teams, wand drill teams, fire by friction and fire by flint and steel, both individually and by group, tent pitching, different types of camps and patrol methods. Different kinds of games were played to introduce or familiarize the other nations with the games played in the United States. In the closing ceremony a trumpet was sounded and all American flags, troop flags and scouts came into the center of the arena, forming in a long line facing the grandstand. The colors of the foreign nations were brought into the center of the group, while the American scouts cheered lustily. At a signal, the song "America's greeting" was sung, followed by the releasing of a number of gas filled balloons, hats were taken off for a great final cheer and the arena was cleared.

Thus the climax of the greatest meeting of boys that the world has ever seen, was reached and the cheering of the spectators was terrific. Any one missing this part of the program during the world jamboree, should feel that a great loss had taken place in their lives.

After the pageant, the New Castle boys were the object of many visitors and comments. Above their tents floated the banner "Boy Scout Troop from New Castle, Pennsylvania, U. S. A. Named for New Castle on the Tyne". Really it was just like being some peculiar or rare specimen of animal in the zoo of the world. A continuous line of people marching past, gazed in awe at the boys, some ask questions or pass some comment. Some laugh, others walk silently by, to make more room for other curious ones that are demanding a view of this particular scene. In fact we are here on exhibition to show England what the Americans are like, and to represent them that we left in America. Just why was New Castle named for the one on the Tyne, how long ago? and other questions were asked the boys as the visitors passed by. The crowd continued to pass or to linger as the notion struck, until the huge rocket announced that it was 10:00 o'clock p. m. and all visitors must make their exit.

To better realize the large crowd at the park, a policeman said the line was at least six deep and one and a half miles long of people waiting for transportation back to the city. The last load was taken in to Birkenhead at two o'clock in the morning, while the bus service furnished a bus every half minute.

Another incident of interest took place in our camp today. Geo. Winters and Metzler together with Arthur Smith, decided to wash some of their clothes, in preparation for their trip next week. Before long they were in great demand. All the boys needed clothes washed, so Smith acting as treasurer, sets the prices and the boys begin their new duties. Just how much the boys "cleaned up" is uncertain, but Herbert will give a final check up and decide upon the tax to be paid. Just what the boys will do next is always an undecided question. As the time for our departure draws nigh, trading materials goes up in value and the stock fluctuates. When the boys are finally ready to sail, the boys uniforms will comprise the following—a pair of Dutch waxed shoes, English stockings, a German shirt, Scotch kilts, palestine head-dress, and his breast will be adorned with badges from every nation, if they keep up their present rate of "swapping". However, orders have been give that each boy must retain a

Mr. and Mrs. W. Latham of Crewe, England, and parents of Fred Latham of Geneva college, and classmate of Mr. Herbert, visited the park today and was shown its camps and facilities by Herbert. In order that they might complete their camping day in style, they accepted the invitation to dinner, Metzler, Winter and Shannon being the cooks, no fear was felt for their health. An excellent meal was prepared, which was thoroughly enjoyed by the guests, as well as the Lawrence county scouts. Great was the praise that the cooks received from the visitors. Mrs. Latham remarked "All my sympathies for the scouts eating out of doors have vanished. I have eaten many worse meals in first class hotels and would like meals like this one all the time."

A fitting camp fire ceremony was held in memory of the finest day of our stay at Arrowe park.

COUNCIL OUTING WELL ATTENDED

Annual Picnic Draws Nearly Half Hundred To Boy Scout Camp

Nearly 50 members of the Young People's Inter-Sunday School council of New Castle enjoyed the organization's annual picnic held Tuesday night at the Lawrence County Boy Scout camp on the Slippery Rock creek.

Dinner was served about 6:30 in a grove near the cottage owned by Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Metzler. Through the kindness of the latter the group was privileged to use boats and canoes and thereby enjoy a general good time.

Following dinner came a bonfire meeting in the natural amphitheatre. The scout leaders and their assistants offered their help and it was appreciated by the members. Singing, led by Al. Bauman, Jr., impromptu special numbers one by a sextet composed of Myrabel May, Mary Sharp, Miriam Harris, Samuel McCleary and Clyde Myers, featured, DeWayne Glenn also participated.

Geneva Fleming, associate superintendent and Dr. T. J. McPate acting superintendent offered brief remarks. The evening was brought to a close by a closing friendship circle around the fire led by Claudia Boughter.

Miss Elizabeth Woods was the general chairman of the outing.

Auto Dealers To Hold Picnic At Lakewood Friday

Arrangements Are Completed For Outing And Corn Roast By N. C. A. D. A.

Arrangements have been completed by the committee in charge of the outing and corn roast of the New Castle Auto Dealers Association, which will be an event of Friday at Lakewood Beach.

The members have made arrangements to close their places of business at noon on that date, when they will repair to the popular East Brook resort for an afternoon and evening of fun.

The outing will not be confined to the men alone, for a number of interesting and fascinating events have been planned for the entertainment of the women, chief among which will be a bathing beauty contest. This event will take place while the men are staging their ball game. The judges are to be named by the President's wife.

Appetites for the corn roast in the evening will be whetted at a ball game between the East Side Dutch and the West Side Irish, the former having issued a challenge which was not rejected.

The East Side Dutch will be composed of players from the following establishments: J. R. Rick Motor Co., C. Rogers Motor Co., Crowl-Whitdon Co., Chambers Motor Co., Universal Sales Co., Riney Motor Co. and State Auto Sales Co.

The West Side Irish will be chosen from the following places: McCoy Motor Co., Lawrence Auto Co., Roe Sales Co., New Castle Auto Sales Co., Barnes-Snyder Motor Co., Marino Motor Co., Foster Brothers, Inc., and Gunton Motor Co.

Everything will be furnished for the eating part of the program except the silverware and the appetites, the committee announces.

LEAKING CARBURETOR SETS FIRE TO CAR

Members of the central and No. 5 departments were called to the vicinity of the Benjamin Franklin junior high school on Linton street by an alarm from box 511 at 8:50 o'clock last evening, where they found a fire in a car owned by Armando Rozzy. The blaze started from a leaking carburetor and did damage estimated at around $25.

Boros And Townships To Have Many Election Contests At Primaries

While no one has gone to the trouble of counting them, it is estimated that there are about 750 candidates for office in the county at the present time, all of them hoping for the right answer on September 17.

There are ninety-one precincts in the county, each of them electing a judge of elections and two inspectors. This alone means 273 candidates. If only one candidate filed for each office. In addition to these, there are the major offices to be filled, district attorney, sheriff, register, and recorder, council, school directors in the city of New Castle and in many boros, tax collectors, assessors, road supervisors and other minor offices.

Some Didn't File. Not all of the candidates filed petitions. Most of the minor offices, such as officers of election boards do not take the trouble to file and this accounts for the discrepancy in numbers between the number of offices to be filled, the candidates for office, and the petitions filed in the county commissioners' office.

In Tuesday's News a list of the candidates for major offices was printed, with their placing on the ballot. Commencing with this article and continuing over a period of two or three days, the names of candidates for office, other than election boards, in the boros and townships will be printed in this column.

Ellwood City. Ellwood City has its usual bitter fight on for burgess, five candidates having filed. They are, Judd C. Turner, Republican, (also filed as a Democrat), Robert B. Curry, Democrat, Charles H. Shiner, Ben G. Swick and Lee R. Klimes, Republican.

For council the following have filed: First ward, John A. Statti; Second ward, W. S. Fisher, Thomas D. "Red" Rocco, E. H. Nye; Third ward, W. G. Duncan, Gail H. Morrison; Fifth ward, J. Ed. McDanel and M. A. Riley.

For assessor: E. S. French, Henry Campbell and George W. Wilson, Republican. For Justice of the Peace: S. Y. Douds, J. E. Van Gorder and Nicholas Cataldo. For Constable: Howell J. Jenkins.

For School Director: Dr. H. S. Gold, James P. Fitzgerald, H. W. Smith and J. W. Mayne.

For Tax Collector: A. Harvey Aiken, J. F. McInteer, E. J. McKim (D), Frank S. Blackburn, Oscar A. Dahl, Samuel A. Roelofs, T. A. E. McCoskey and V. J. Paladino.

Ellport Candidates. In the recently formed boro of Ellport, the fight which took place some time ago for offices to be filled until the general election, seems to have broken out afresh. For burgess there are three candidates, Andor Harsanyi, Thomas A. Gartley and John F. Calen.

Monday was the last day of classes for the first period at the campfire, the names of those who completed the week's work were read. Prior to the camp fire, a treasure hunt was held, which ended at the Hawthorne tree, which was hung with lollypops. Games were then played around the tree, after which they trooped back to the camp fire, where songs were sung and a play entitled, "Why Nellie Reformed," was presented under the direction of Miss Josephine Sowersby. The cast included the following: Nellie—Bonnie Christman. First swimmer—Thelma Hiles. Second swimmer—Jean Tindal. First Girl Scout—Mary Jane McClintock. Second Girl Scout—Vivian Johnson. Echo—Jeanne Parker. Brownie—Janet McClintock. Miss Haydon announced the following girls as having completed their second class nature test:—Mary Jane McClintock, Betty Crane, Lillian Dietterle, Helen Gibson, Marion Bergland, Marian Patterson, Janice Meredith, Georgia Parker, Faisy Cubbison and Thelma Hiles.

Miss Regina Popp passed the following girls in mapping:—Grace Bauder, Jean Hofmaster, Bonnie Christman and Virginia Armstrong.

The following passed in fire building:—Mary Jane McClintock, Anna-bell Tindal, Helen Kelly, Betty Trimble, Janice McClintock, Helen Gibson, Jean Tindal, Anna May River, Georgia Parker, Betty Crane, Joan Veach, Lillian Dietterle, Irma Swanton and Donna Jean Ball.

Janice Meredith passed her beginner's test in swimming.

The correct address for the camp is in care Horner Glenn, Slippery Rock, Pa.

McKibben Seeks For Accounting

Files Suit For Share Of Profits At Cascade Park Concession

In a suit in equity entered today in the office of Prothonotary Ralph M. Campbell, E. Don McKibbin seeks an accounting and a share of profits from a partnership alleged to have been entered into between him and Graham Pierce in 1925.

The bill sets out that in November or December 1925, McKibbin contracted with Graham Pierce to secure the refreshment concession at the Cascade Park Dancing Pavilion.

This concession was secured, and since that time Pierce has operated the stand, and has made large profits from it, according to the bill. Mr. McKibbin avers that Pierce has refused to make any accounting and has also turned over no profits.

The bill asks that Pierce be ordered to make a full and complete accounting, and to turn over to McKibbin his share of the profits which have accrued.

Immense Beer Barrels At Old Brewery Will Serve As Small Cabins

Back in those days when musty brown ale wasn't allowed to stay musty very long, when free lunches accompanied a nickel schooner, and tending bar was a profession, some of the boys were off head to wish that they could "sleep in a beer barrel."

The inference was that a beer barrel would be a cool place to sleep, that the aroma of departed suds would act as a mild anesthetic, and that such a place would be conducive to repose without insomnia.

Now You Can Do It. If you ever wished for such a sleeping porch, you can gratify your wish now. The New Castle Lumber and Construction Company, which company recently took over the plant of the old Standard Brewing Company is preparing to dispose of about 72 barrels and casks for summer cottage purposes.

Before you go into any belittlin' as to the possibility of a barrel being that big, get a load of the dimensions of some of them.

There are 9 barrels over in the stock house of the old brewery that measure 10 feet in diameter and hold 10,000 gallons. Lets see, allowing a pint to a schooner, that would be about 80,000 glasses and—well never mind about that.

These barrels would make admirable summer cabins of one room each, with an addition of a porch and a couple of holes for air. Or perhaps the air would be all right as it is in there.

There are 5 barrels of nine feet diameter, holding about 8000 gallons. There are 16 casks eight feet in diameter and 10 feet high, there are five of them 6 feet in diameter, and 15 high casks 8 feet in diameter and 18 feet high. There are 6 more 8 feet in diameter and eight feet high and 16 fermenters 6 feet high and 8 feet in diameter.

Cool And Inviting. The larger barrels are so huge that it is necessary to tear out a wall to get them out onto the ground and the wall is coming out today. Most of the barrels are of the finest quarter sawed oak with some of them being cypress, a wood that never decays. For about seven years they have been filled with—water so that they have not shrunk. A few of the hoops have rusted off but could be repaired easily.

But to return to the left motif there are a lot of beer barrels going to be turned into one room cabins for camps, and admirably built to get the best sound effects when the camp quartet breaks into "Sweet Adeline".

PATTERSON HERE ON SHORT VISIT

Beaver County Legislator Makes Brief Visit To New Castle

Hon. Fred W. Patterson, member of the Pennsylvania General Assembly, from Beaver County for the past three sessions of the Assembly is a visitor in New Castle today, renewing his acquaintances with many old friends here.

Some years ago Mr. Patterson retired from active participation in his profession as civil engineer and in the past eight years has devoted himself to politics and government.

He has just returned from a trip through the eastern part of Pennsylvania and New Jersey and during his visit in the various portions of the state listened to many discussions over the coming gubernatorial contest.

"It is my impression" said Mr. Patterson, "that right now ex-state Treasurer Samuel Lewis is the outstanding candidate for the Republican nomination for governor. His outspoken attitude on public questions, his familiarity with problems of state, and his undisputed ability as a governmental executive seems to have caught the popular fancy and his name is given first consideration in many corners of the state."

"The present factional flight in Philadelphia may cause a split there that will be felt in the governor contest, but there is a possibility that factional lines will be forgotten when Lewis is a candidate."

Mr. Patterson returned to his home in New Brighton this afternoon.

Safety Dinner At Cathedral

P-O Street Car And Bus Operators To Celebrate

FIRST SIX MONTHS
FREE OF ACCIDENTS

New Castle street railway and motor bus operators of the Penn-Ohio System, their wives, city officials and officials of the transportation system will gather in the Cathedral Thursday to celebrate the achievement of the operators in setting up a fine safety record for the first half of 1929.

Dinner meetings will be held at noon and at 6:30 p. m., the first for the late men and the evening meeting for the men who work in the mornings.

Both meetings are in celebration of 36 of the 57 men on the New Castle street railway and bus lines and on the New Castle-Youngstown inter-urban railway going throughout the first six months of the year without being responsible for a single accident.

During the first six months of the year there was a definite reduction in all forms of accidents, including minor happenings that to the ordinary observer would not be classed as accidents at all. This reduction was made in face of the fact that the record set up for 1928 was far better than that of 1927 or any previous year since the present method of checking accidents was adopted. The occasion will be a gala one for the operators and their wives. Joining with them in their celebration will be officials of the Penn-Ohio from various points who will come here to attest to the fine record set up by Superintendent "Chris" Coulthard and his men. Manager of Railways R. N. Graham will preside at the dinners and introduce the speakers who will include Judge J. A. Chambers of the Lawrence county courts, Mayor Gillespie and Chief of Police Horner.

Music during the dinner will be furnished by the Penn-Ohio Club Royal Orchestra under the direction of Paul D. Hunt. The program of entertainment will include dancing features by Betty Jane Buchanan and Helen Nedra Sergeant, daughters of New Castle operators, and a rural comedy sketch by Roy Whittenberger and F. E. Thomas, operators on the Youngstown lines.

County Agent Will Return From Show

County Farm Agent H. R. McCulloch is expected to return from State College, Pa., today, after attending the potato exhibition that was held there under the auspices of the State Potato Growers Association and the Pennsylvania State College. Mrs. McCulloch will also return with her husband.

Lawrence county's contingent of nearly 20 potato raisers who are attending the show expect to arrive back home on Thursday evening or Friday morning.

Over 1600 For Senior High

Enrollment For Coming
School Year To Pass
1600 Mark

SOME 1592 ALREADY
ENTERED FOR CLASSES

When the senior high school opens for the 1929-30 school year on September 4, the enrollment will be something like 1,600 students, an estimate of the enrollment by Principal F. L. Orth today revealed.

To date 1,592 schedule cards have been handed in by students who intend to enroll in the senior high school. The enrollment will likely pass the 1,600 mark. Students from outside cities, students failing to hand in their schedule cards and those quitting school previously and deciding to continue will enlarge the enrollment.

Five hundred and fourteen of the estimated enrollment will be new sophomores from different schools of the city. Principal Orth stated that a meeting of the sophomores B's will take place on Tuesday afternoon, Sept. 3, at two o'clock in the auditorium of the high school. At that time the new students will be taken to their rooms, get acquainted with their new teachers and with the building so that when they return on the following day they will know "what's what" at the high school.

The sophomore A students from last semester number 456. The total number of sophomores for the first semester is 970. The remainder of the enrollment will be made up of 156 senior A's, 204 senior B's, 192 junior A's and 241 junior B's.

HIGH SCHOOL OFFICE OPEN

High School Office Opened For New Fall Term
Today

Today marked the opening of the senior high school main office for the 1929-30 school year. The office will be opened from now until the closing of the 1930 school campaign.

Students wishing to interview Principal F. L. Orth regarding their schedules or credits or anything not clear to them about the high school have their opportunity to do so now. The office will be private during the first week of school, due to the many things that must be straightened out by the office workers.

Principal Orth wishes to emphasize the fact that now when there is no rush at the high school is the time to settle any questions concerning the high school not clear to the students.

Mother Awarded Child In Court

Youngster Weeps Bitterly, Prefers To Go To Her Father; Court Rules Otherwise

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Aug. 21.—Mary Louise Rappold, aged 8, does not agree with a common pleas court decision which gave her into the custody of her mother, Lillian Rappold, 45. She would prefer to have been given to her father, Ralph E. Rappold, Saltsburg, Pa.

During a three hour session of court in which the case was argued the girl sat beside her father. And when it was decided she had to go with her mother she cried bitterly.

The court stipulated, however, that the father should be permitted to see his daughter at any time. At a previous hearing he was ordered to pay $20 a week to aid in support of the mother and child, and was allowed to visit his daughter once a week.

STOMACH TROUBLE?

"DIASTATIC DEFICIENCY" AND "TOO MUCH ACID" CAUSE 9 OUT OF EVERY 10 ATTACKS

"DIASTATIC DEFICIENCY" (failure to digest starches), causes more than one-half the cases of stomach trouble. Because of this deficiency, potatoes, breads, macaroni, rice, breakfast cereals and other starchy foods remain in a semi-undigested condition and refuse to move on as they should. This stoppage causes INDIGESTION, GAS, FERMENTATION, BOURNEUSE, SICK HEADACHE and other common troubles. "TOO MUCH ACID" is the cause of almost all the remaining half of our stomach troubles. It also is the result of fermentation and excess digestive acids. ACIDINE, the new discovery, is a perfect anti-acid combined with "Japasec," the most effective known starch digestant, one pound of which will digest more than 500 pounds of starchy foods.

ACIDINE is the FIRST COMPLETE REMEDY for STOMACH TROUBLE—AN ANTI-ACID, STARCH DIGESTANT, MEAT DIGESTANT. At the same time it is safe and soothing to the most sensitive stomach. Slightly laxative but not unpleasantly so.

Boro Manager Submits First Annual Report

Saving To Borough Is Shown In Several Departments Under New Methods

PAVING COST IS GREATLY REDUCED

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 21.—Lowell W. Monroe, borough manager, has submitted his first annual report to the borough council, showing a gratifying saving of money over conditions which existed prior to his entry into office.

The report is submitted in detail, covering all phases of borough work since February 1, 1928, when he took charge.

Mr. Monroe tells how the borough incinerator which it had been decided to abandon was repaired and through careful operation has been able to handle all garbage and refuse, especially during the heavy collection months during the summer. He reports that the plant is in good condition and should continue to do the work required for another year at least with a minimum amount of repair and maintenance.

From March 1 to December 31, 876 tons of garbage, 180 miscellaneous loads of rubbish, 41 animals, and 31 loads of other debris were burned. Approximately 65 tons of coal were used as an accelerator. In addition to the above 217 loads of tin cans were collected and hauled to the dump. A deficit of $700 is shown in the garbage account, which is explained as due to the fact that no authentic figures were available as to the cost of supplying fuel in former years.

Many Streets Paved

The method of street maintenance was changed, council authorizing the purchase of power grader, and abolishing the team of horses and other equipment. This resulted in a saving of $3,134.17 to the borough, with an unpaid balance of $2,043.75 that could have been paid rightfully during the coming three years, representing the outlay for the new equipment.

The work of improving streets has been the repaving of Chestnut Way from Sixth street west to where work was stopped in 1927; raising and repaving of the Fourth street railroad crossing approaches, raising and repaving of holes in pavement in numerous parts of the city where they had settled, rounding corner of Spring avenue and First avenue, and applying surface treatment course to Beechwood Boulevard.

Some sewer improvements were made at a cost to the borough of slightly more than $500.

Paving Costs Cut
Another item of interest was the change in method of doing the city's improvement work. Where the work had been done heretofore by awarding a contract to the lowest bidder, who was generally from outside the city and who brought in outside labor, the borough decided to do its own work. The results more than exceeded expectations. An average saving of approximately 24 per cent was effected in paving costs, and approximately 18 per cent in sewer costs.

Comparison of the unit costs shows the following: grading per cubic yard, 75 cents; for 1928, 60 cents; curbing per linear foot average, $1.40; for 1928, 79 cents; pavement including base brick, filler, and cushion, per square yard, $3.80; for 1928, $2.80.

Improvements are paid for as follows: sewer improvements entire cost by abutting property owners; paving costs, property owners pay two thirds and the borough at large, the balance. Streets paved during the year were: Park avenue, Sixth to West Short street; West Short, from Park to Crescent avenue and First avenue, from Bridge to Gregg street. Sanitary sewers were constructed along parts of Hillside avenue, First avenue, Orchard avenue and Bluff avenue.

The fire department under the capable leadership of Fire Chief R. T. Plante, finished the year with the remarkable low per capita fire loss of approximately 75 cents.

Mr. Monroe pays tribute to the fine cooperation furnished by all city departments, members of council, and the citizens at large to make the period a successful one, especially Joe Parker, construction foreman; William Friedhoff of the Electric Light Dept.; Assistant Engineer, Emerson Walker; Secretary E. B. Moyer and his assistants.

McDaniel-McCullough Wedding Event Is Pretty Lawn Affair

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 21.—The marriage of Miss Eleanor Phillips McDanel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy McDanel of the Ellwood-Zelenople road, and James A. McCullough, Jr., son of James McCullough, of the New Brighton road, was a pretty event of Tuesday evening. The ceremony was performed on the lawn of the bride's home, under an arbor of lovely flowers and ferns, in the presence of fifty relatives and friends of both families.

Rev. Joseph R. Routledge of the Providence Baptist church performed the ceremony, assisted by Rev. C. T. Lytell and Rev. J. D. McDanel, uncles of the bride. The couple was unattended, and the bride looked charming in a gown of pale blue chiffon crepe, carrying a bouquet of bridal roses and valley lilies.

An informal reception followed the impressive ceremony, after which Mr. and Mrs. McCullough left by motor for Colorado Springs, and other points of interest in the middle west.

Upon their return on September 15, they will be at home to their many friends in Reservoir, Pa., where the groom is employed in the Wireless Office. CAR HITS POLE ON WHITE WAY

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 21.—An accident happened yesterday on Lawrence avenue, when a car, said to have been operated by Patsy Zolla, of Wampum avenue, failed to round the curve at Lawrence avenue and Fifth street, and collided with one of the white way poles, broke the globe, and stopped after doing considerable damage to the car.

It seems that Zolla, who was driving fast to make his way up the hill, turned the corner sharply, and his wheel caught in the street car track, throwing the machine into the White Way post in front of J. I. Porter's store. One front wheel of the car was smashed and the other bent in.

Gridders Will Get Equipment Friday Night

New Castle High Football Candidates To Get Equipment At 7 O'Clock Friday Night

By "BUGS" WALTHER. Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner, announced today that on Friday night, at 7 o'clock, at the Ben Franklin stadium, the equipment for the 1929 football team will be handed out.

It is asked that all boys who will make the trip to camp be on hand promptly Friday night. Coach Bridenbaugh likes the boys to be prompt. It would be best that you be there just a little ahead of time.

The task of selecting the boys to make the training camp trip has been completed. It was a tough job to pick out the material. Coach Bridenbaugh labored strenuously over the list and has selected 40 boys to go to Muddy Creek Falls.

Camp, opens on Monday, August 26, and the boys will have their first workout at 10:30 o'clock. There is lots of hard work ahead of the 40 youngsters going to camp.

Camp In Shape. The camp has been placed in tiptop shape for the gridders by Ralph Gardner and his staff of assistants. The boys will be well taken care of. The food will be good. The gridders will get plenty to eat, and they will also get a lot of sleep. After two hard practice sessions each day, the youths are ready for the "hey" early.

There are not many veterans to take to camp this year. The material for the most part is green, quite green in fact. Coach Bridenbaugh has a real task ahead of him. If New Castle is to be among the leaders this season, there is a lot of real work to be accomplished. It is always harder to train a green team.

The following boys have been selected to make the trip to the training camp. They are also asked to report at the stadium on Friday:

- Harold Morgan.
- Nick Uram.
- Tony Mike.
- William Bender.
- Merle Hart.
- James Sotus.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

By ED. FRITZ

PHIL TOBIAS, the best Hebrew flyweight in the United States, and the first red-skinned, high-cheekbone son of swat, furnish the pugilistic protoplasm at the Jolly Bowl next Monday night. Peters has milled several times here, is popular but he will have a decidedly difficult task to overcome if he wins from Tobias who defeated Midget Wolgast in a New York ring in November, 1928. Previously the Midget scored over Tobias.

According to Bob Levy, New York, manager of Tobias, some of his pugilistic achievements resulted as follows:

Midget Wolgast, won decision; Willie Davies, newspaper decision; Johnny McCoy, won decision; Harry Goldstein, won decision; Black Bill, lost, close decision; Steve Rocco, lost, close decision; Bias Rodriguez, lost, close decision; Krisco Grande, draw; Nick de Salvo, won decision; Pete Sanstol, lost decision after great bout.

PETERS is one of the best fighting humans to have appeared here. He has never failed to please and he never seeks a setup. On his every appearance he has been greeted by a large crowd because he fights. Tobias, like Peters, has all-around class, is well in the forefront of his division and the coming bout should be action plus.

Originally it had been planned to use Willie Davies against Eric Peters. He came here and when introduced was booed by a few fans who obviously would rather see boxing disappear from New Castle than acknowledge its prosperity. We do not know but firmly believe that this boohing was due to the fact that he was to accept a bout at Toronto instead of boxing Peters here.

MONDAY night there were only one or two boohing customers. Chief of Police Horner gave instructions to police that boohers should be "thrown out on their heads." The police tried to single them out and two were ejected which was pretty good. People go to the Bowl to see fights, which they pay to witness and not to hear boohs.

In our way of thinking a person who casts insults at a boy who is trying to earn his living is a cheap sport. There is a big difference between a sport and a sportsman. A piker is not wanted anywhere. The bulk of the fans are fair square, up and up and relish action which they always receive.

JOHNNY JENNINGS, the East Side, er, with the southpaw stance looked like the berries when he boxed that cagey, rugged, tough and courageous Barney Davis. Jennings was smacked around during the few rounds with right hands and though he was stung, stuck to his task and came through a winner.

Referee George Chip employed excellent judgment in this bout as he stopped the bout when all hope of Davis winning had been dissipated. Jennings was creating havoc with stomach punches and Davis sagged to the floor, got up and sagged again to the canvas. Why let a boy be punished unnecessarily when victory chances have all fled?

THE new seats at the Bowl made a pleasing appearance and gave comfort to the fans and many comments were heard. No doubt the slide and reserved seat sections will be in great demand. It is no longer easy for 20 fans to crowd in 16 seats. Every seat is marked and the capable ushers know their tasks.

Another thing connected with the Bowl is that it has a police force, augmented by city and state police who attend the battles. At least five state police, in plain clothes attend every bout and at least a dozen uniformed men aid the police hired for duty and who work under Tommy Lynch's jurisdiction.

FOR instance after Paris Cangey knocked out Ferro a few of the Cangey followers raced to the ring to congratulate him. In less than a minute the Bowl police under Tommy Lynch, state police and the uniformed disciples of law and order closed in, shoved everyone courteously from the corners. No confusion, no excitement. That's system.

Next Monday night may be the biggest attendance so far as idles is concerned that could be looked for. Peters and Tobias are no bitter than mites, are clever, fast and smart. It is the small lads that the feminine type like to see. The flyweights generally draw the biggest "gates."

Yankees Unkind To "Red" Faber

Yesterday Was "Faber Day" At Comiskey Park But Yanks Won 5 To 4

CUBS-GIANTS SPLIT GAMES

BY HENRY McLEMORE

NEW YORK, N. Y., Aug. 21.—The Yanks today are no doubt congratulating themselves on being the generous souls they are.

For yesterday being Faber Day at Comiskey Park with the veteran pitcher being given a check for $2,700 and a radio among other things, the Yanks up and give him a 5 to 4 beating. This gift included plenty of misery as some eleven hits went along with the beating.

While Euggins' athletes were being so considerate of Mr. Faber the Athletics were taking one on the chin from the Browns so they now lead the American parade but by a paltry margin of twelve games. Ralph Kress's homer with one on provided the St. Louis runs.

Three Detroit pitchers tried in vain to stop Boston, the Red Sox pounding out a 12 to 8 verdict.

Senators Beat Indians. Great relief pitching by Myles Thomas enabled Washington to whip Cleveland, 6 to 2.

The Giants tried hard yesterday and all they got for their trouble was an even break which hardly ruffled the Cubs as second-place Philadelphia was busy losing to Philadelphia. McGraw's athletes took the first affair, 4 to 1, beating Buy Bush in the process. The second game was a 1 to 0 triumph for Hal Carlson—his seventh straight win.

Philadelphia, 6 to 3, by the simple but effective expedient of scoring eight runs in the first three innings and then watching the Pirates try and catch up.

Brooklyn's pain in seeing the Cards conquer Dazzy Vance, 3 to 2 in the first game of a double bill, was greatly alleviated by Ray Moss's 4 to 0 victory in the second. Johnny Frederick slapped his twenty-first homer over the wall in the nightcap.

Fred Lucas ran his win string to sixteen when he pitched Cincinnati to a 6 to 2 win over Boston.

FOR instance after Paris Cangey knocked out Ferro a few of the Cangey followers raced to the ring to congratulate him. In less than a minute the Bowl police under Tommy Lynch, state police and the uniformed disciples of law and order closed in, shoved everyone courteously from the corners. Pennsy-Italians Are Deadlocked

Game In County League At E. & A. Field Ends In Tie At 2-2 On Tuesday

The Pennsy team and Italian A. A. played a 2-2 tie game at the E. & A. field on Tuesday evening. The game was halted in the ninth on account of darkness.

The game was a flinging duel between Rodenbaugh and Shields, with honors even. Both teams scored a lone run in the first inning, and the game remained tied for several innings. The Italians were leading 2 to 1, going into the final half of the ninth, but the Pennsy boys got to Shields and secured a run that tied the game up in a knot.

Tonight at the E. & A. field the Pennsy team, 4, clashes with Hillsville. The game is postponed in the first half of the season. If the Pennsy team wins, it will mean the championship of the first-half.

The game will start at 6:30 o'clock.

Poisonous Pirates

Oklahoma is mighty proud as the native State of Pittsburgh's famous Waner brothers—Paul and Lloyd, fielders extraordinary and heavy hitters to the manner born ("Big Poison" Paul was the first to break into the big show. "Little Poison" Lloyd followed soon thereafter. The brothers are both light—"Little Poison" being perhaps the smallest player to ever star in a big league. What the Waners lack in bulk, they surely make up in remarkable skill.

Right from the gun, Paul and Lloyd made good with the Pirates as top-notch fielders and able hitters. Both have speed—in this department, "Little Poison" having the edge on his elder brother. Although both are in their early twenties they are already listed among baseball's veteran stars.

Neither has cracked thus far under the strain of consistent stellar play. Originally, the Waners played in the outfield for Pittsburgh, but now Paul is covering first base while Lloyd patrols the center garden.

The Waner's father owns a large ranch in Oklahoma where the brothers live much of the time between seasons. It was their dad who taught them the elements of baseball in childhood. He was a good semi-pro pitcher. As soon as Paul could crawl, his pitching Pa would toss a ball to him and Lloyd went through the same experience. Baseball was among their first toys. Up through school grades, they played the game and were crack professionals when still in their teens. Neither has had a bad season thus far.

Among baseball's "naturals," the Waners are the real thing!

Tin Wallpapers Win Game From Mail Carriers

The Shenango Tin Mill mushball team defeated the Post Office team, 10 to 8, in a game played at Colonial Hill on Tuesday night. The game was interesting throughout, with the Tin Mill scoring two runs in the seventh to win the verdict.

Jenkins had the pitching job for the Tin Mill and was found for 15 hits. Davis, on the knoll for the Post Office, was found for 15 hits.

It was an evenly fought game until the first half of the seventh. McBride was the fence buster of the game, with a triple and two doubles, while Honkonen, Richards, Shaffer, Roberts, Williams, Ingram and Spencer also hit timely.

Slovaks Lose To Bessemer

Bessemer Rally In Seventh Inning Gives Them 5 To 2 Victory

The Slovaks had the game at Clifton Flats field, sewed up last night, until the seventh inning, when Bessemer suddenly and without warning, unleashed an attack that netted them five runs, and it was sufficient to subdue the strong Slovak team.

The feature of the game was the triple by P. Nord with the bases loaded, in the seventh inning. Panas pitched a fine game until that fatal seventh. R. Nord on the hill for Bessemer allowed but five safe hits and fanned six men. Mash and McHale had extra-base blows.

The Wesley M. C. team of the Church League will play the Slovaks at Clifton Flats field tonight. The summary:

SORDS POINTS

Sweetser Lone Eastern Amateur Hope

By JACK SORDS
Sports Cartoonist Writer for Central Press

With a strong array of western golfers ready to toe off at Pebble Beach, Cal., in the annual battle against Bobby Jones for the national amateur title, the only real hope of the East is in Jesse Sweetser, a former titleholder.

Sweetser came out of Yale in 1923 and won the crown at Brookline by defeating Bobby Jones 3 and 7 in the semi-final round and followed up by trimming the veteran Chick Evans in the final. In 1928 he journeyed to England to win the British amateur title championship at Muirfield, defeating A. F. Simpson in the final.

After his British triumph the American amateur's health failed and he was forced from active competition for a few years. But during recent exhibitions Jesse, physically fit again, has proved that he is the golfer of old and is ready to make an excellent account of himself in the big gathering next month.

NEW CASTLE MAN HURT AT ALLIANCE

ALLIANCE, O., Aug. 21.—David Mitchell, 22, New Castle, Pa., is in the Alliance hospital suffering from a fractured skull, the result of an automobile accident on the West State road. His condition is serious. Colonel Lindbergh won first honors in a horsehoe tournament at President Hoover's summer camp. Not surprising, when you consider that he probably used his own pet horsehoe. Falls From Window Of Second Story; Escapes Injury

Merle Jackamo, Aged 4, Topples From Window While At Play Last Evening

Merle, aged four, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Jackamo of Garfield avenue, escaped injury when he fell from a second story window of their home last evening. The little fellow had been playing near the window and lost his balance while leaning out, falling to the ground below, a distance of approximately 15 feet.

An examination showed that no bones were broken and he was able to get about as usual this morning, none the worse for his experience except that he sustained a few painful bruises.

GREENVILLE, Pa., August 21.—Although one additional possible lead to identification has been obtained, the identity of the young man who hurled himself to death under a freight train at Hartstown a week ago is still unknown. A telegram has been received from Nanticoke, Pa., for a full description, which was sent, but no reply has yet been received.

Word is also awaited from two other clues which have been followed, leading to a possible unravelling of the mystery, through Detroit, Mich., and Grafton, W. Va.

Chief hope of identification rests on a small scar apparently quite old, under the left eye, and several gold crowns on the lower back teeth. The man was about 30 years old, weight 140 to 145 pounds, had light blue eyes, sandy-reddish hair, and wore a blue suit.

NAB BOY SELLING SNOOK BOOKLETS

AKRON, O., Aug. 21.—Declaring that he was launching a fight against the distribution of obscenity Police Chief John Durkin, Tuesday, ordered the Akron police to stop the sale of a booklet purporting to give an unexpurgated account of the testimony of James H. Snook while on trial for the murder of Theora Hix.

The police chief issued the order after Police Sergeant Fred J. Klingenhagen had arrested a youth, he found selling the booklets on the sidewalk in the downtown section.

The youth was brought to the Central Police Station and given a temporary release after disclosing that he had been furnished booklets by a man.

A search started for the man, who is thought to have engaged other boys to peddle the booklets. The boy had been selling them for $1 each he told police.

Correct this sentence: "It isn't fear of public opinion that makes me dress this way," said the man. "I just feel more comfortable in a coat."

ROAMING

With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations
Of Interesting Things
Around New Castle

Most of us take our advantages for granted. Light, transportation, telephones, radios and particularly what we take inside in the way of food and drink. One of the simplest things in the world is to turn the spigot and run out a glass of water and drink it. Simple as turning a light switch or shifting the gear in your car. But not as simple if you realized what was done to make that water pure.

The glass of water you drink has had the benefit of a couple of million dollars worth of treatment. If you count the investment of the company furnishing the water the men employed, the research work that is back of it, and the meticulous care that is given to the treatment of the water.

Roamed out around the water works Tuesday with the superintendent whose name happens to be the same as mine, but who isn't any more related than a cottage is to a cottage pudding.

To look at the water drawn from the Shenango river isn't so appetizing. A fellow would hardly want to bathe in it. And yet before the water comes gets through with it, it is chemically pure, fit to drink, and far safer than the springs which bubble out with sparkling water.

Settling basins and filter tanks, alum treatments and lime treatment, chlorine and goodness knows what else and all of them with a definite duty to perform.

Looking at a specimen of river water under a microscope looks like a picture of a world's series baseball game with each one of the spots representing some particular kind of animal that wouldn't do your innards any good.

Look at a specimen of the same water after it has been treated, and it is pure, ready to be used on the table of your home, with all the bugs removed.

The prize of all the bugs found in river water is the water flea. If you know what you are looking for, and have a sharp eye, you can discern water fleas but they are so minute that a dozen of them could roam around on the head of a pin and never get acquainted with each other.

Magnify them 350 times and you see a wonderful looking animal, or bug or whatever. Octagonal in shape with the octagon perfect, eyes, stomach, and a complete set of organs. Under the microscope you can see them breathe and watch the action of the heart.

There is an outdoor water faucet on the grounds of the water company with a pergola over it. The water is cold and sparkling and at the same cool temperature.

There is a story connected with the water fountain that can be told now for it was exploded some years ago. Shortly after the fountain was installed, passersby, and particularly trainmen in the yards stopped there and drank their fill.

No matter the heat of the day the water was always cool and someone started the story that it was an artesian well. Soon people began coming there with jugs and crocks and taking away the water for table use.

The fame of the artesian well spread and soon it was said to have curative properties. One old settler declared proudly that by drinking of the water he had cured himself of rheumatism.

This is the story of the fountain. At one time, a gas well was drilled on the property now occupied by the water company and the casing went down several thousand feet. Down quite a distance is a pool of water through which the casing passes and because of its being under ground, the water is always cool.

One of the water company men ran a line out to the old well, and by running a length of pipe down and back up the casing, the cool temperature of the water surrounding the casing acted as a refrigerator for the city water in the pipe. Hence the standard temperature of the water as it came from the fountain.

It was all right to tell it an artesian well, but when it cured the old settler's rheumatism, the story was too good to keep.

Then there is the story of the chap over on the west side who years ago had a spring bubble up on his land that he said had curative properties, that is the spring water, not the land.

People came from far and wide and bought bottles of the water. One day the water company dug up its main line near the old fellow's place, and when the new line went in, the spring disappeared. A leak on the main had bubbled up through to the surface.

Activity Plus Features Second Day's Program At Scout Camp Phillips

The second day of Rotary Week proved to be one full of fun and a good time for all of the boys here in camp. The boys are enjoying this week in camp as the guests of the Rotary Club of New Castle and are surely making the best of their opportunity. When the bugle sounds for games every one is found eager to play his part. The water has been quite cool but nevertheless the boys enjoy the swim and those who do not know how to swim are making great progress under the leadership of swimming director Zeigler and his assistant Watson. Yesterday was an ideal one for camping and sports as the variety of games played shows.

But inspection was won by Hut Polster. Mac Leslie is the leader of this stockade. Mac is a very good leader, his boys having won inspection a great many times during the summer camping periods. The boys in this unit are Albert Nocera, Carl Santaria, Dan Santaria, Tony Mosasco, and Vic Nocera.

Archery was one of the most attractive sports and the winners of the contest were John Zdrunko, 85; M. Radkowski, 95, and Andy Adams 80. Mac Leslie who was in charge of this group says that the scores are very good for beginners. The baseball game was a close one ending with a score of 10 to 8. The Senior Golds proved to be too much for the Blues. The lineup is as follows: Golds, Lambert, Nocera, DeAgustine, Al De Agustine, Sontola, Chamberlain, Cooney, V. Nocera. The Blues were are given out they would feel well repaid. The boys just bubble over with joy.

Among the visitors in camp last evening were Scott Paisley, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Paisley, Charles T. Mettler, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Round, Mr. and Mrs. Leitch, Mr. McCurdy, F. L. Burton and wife, and Dr. and Mrs. T. J. McFate. The campers rendered a vote of thanks to Carl Paisley for the candy.

Mr. Norton was in charge of colors directed the boys in their program of games for the evening.

Cigarets May Cost More Money, Report

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—You cigarette smokers may have to pay more for the same old smokes before high finance gets through tinkering with the lowly tag.

Higher prices were forecast Tuesday following announcement that the George K. Morrow interests, controlling the Gold Dust corporation has taken over control of the Tobacco Products corporation which in turn holds majority stock in United Cigars. With this transfer goes a large block of stock in the Schulte Realty Stores corporation formerly held by United, but control of the Schulte chain remains with David A. Schulte and associates.

It is understood stiff competition from cut-rate stores forcing price-cutting was the factor which caused George J. Whelan and associates to seek a strong alliance for their interests which include 2,300 stores, 24 subsidiary companies, interests in half a dozen other large concerns and heavy realty holdings about $100,000,000 was involved.

The accident occurred at Dick's Dam, just opposite a bungalow colony of summer vacationists.
